丛书前言

依靠自己的力量，在有限的的时间里学习一门新学科，从不懂到懂，从不会到会，从不理解到理解，从容易遗忘到记忆深刻，从不会应用到熟练应用，从模仿到创新，把书本知识内化为自己的知识，是一个艰难的过程。在这个过程中，自学者不仅需要认真钻研考试大纲，刻苦学习教材和辅导书，还应该做适量的练习，把学和练有机地结合起来，否则，就不能达到预定的学习目标。“纸上得来终觉浅，绝知此事要躬行。”这是每一位自学者都应遵循的信条。

编写模拟试题，同样是不容易的事。它对编写者提出了相当高的要求：

- 有较深的学术造诣；
- 有较丰富的教学经验；
- 对高等教育自学考试有深刻的理解并有一定的辅导自学者的经历；
- 对考试大纲、教材、辅导书有深入的了解，对文中的重点、难点、相互联系等有准确的理解；
- 对自学者学习需要和已有的知识基础有一定的了解。

只有把这些因素融合在一起，编写者才能编写出高质量的，有利于举一反三、事半功倍的练习。

基于学习目标的考虑，我们把模拟试题大致分为四个部分：

第一，单项练习，针对一个知识点而设计的练习题。其目的是帮助自学者理解和记忆基本概念和理论。

第二，创造性练习，提供一些案例、事实、材料，使考生应用所学的理论、观点、方法创造性地解决问题。这类问题可能没有统一的答案，只有一些参考性的思路。其目的很明确，就是培养自学者的创新意识和能力。

第三，综合自测练习，在整个学科范围内设计练习题，尽量参考考试大纲的题型，组成类似考卷的练习题。其目的是使自学者及时检测全部学习状况，帮助自学者做好迎接统一考试的知识及心理准备。

第四，历届试题练习，旨在帮助自学者能按正规考试要求进行学习效果的测试。

子曰：“学而时习之，不亦说乎。”本书可以让学生边学边练，有规律地进行复习，这不仅可以提高学习效率，也能给艰难的学习过程带来一些快乐。圣人能够体会到这一点，我们每一位自学者同样能体会到。如果通过这样的学习过程，实现学习目标，实现人生的理想，实现对自我的不断超越，那么我们说这种学习其乐无穷也毫不夸张。

高等教育自学考试系列辅导丛书的编写和出版工作是一项艰巨而复杂的“培根铸魂”式的文化系统工程，需要付出很多的时间与精力。先进思想引领伟大事业，面对国家发展、民族复兴的迫切需求，面对时代改革、未来发展带来的巨大挑战，面对知识获取和传授方式的革命性变化，我们应立足现状，不骄不馁。展望未来，任重道远。我们满怀信心，肩负教育事业赋予文化企业的使命，砥砺前行，造就堪当民族复兴大任的“腹有诗书气自华”的时代新人，责无旁贷。我们坚信只要怀有对文化教育事业的诚挚热爱，心系考生，情牵教育，牢记使命，胜利与成功一定属于付出努力的人。

编写说明

《英语（二）模拟试题集》系全国高等教育自学考试本科段各专业必修的公共基础课程“英语（二）”的配套参考用书。“英语（二）”是一门语言实践课程，也是学生拓宽知识、了解世界文化的重要课程。英语是世界上使用最广泛的语言。它不仅是英国、美国、加拿大、澳大利亚、新西兰等国的通用语言，也是许多非英语国家进行科学技术、外交、贸易、管理和文化等方面对外交流的通用语言。“英语（二）”课程是以培养自学考生的综合语言能力为目标，使自学考生在学习、工作和社会交往中能够使用英语进行有效交流，并能学习和借鉴国外先进科学技术、经营方式、管理方法和优秀文化成果，同时向世界展示我国建设和发展的成就。

该课程自开考以来尚未出版一本以供考生练习使用的复习资料，考生在复习迎考时觉得无从下手。为了满足广大考生复习备考之要求，我们根据长期从事高等教育自学考试教学和管理经验，精心编写了本书。

在编写时，我们依据全国高等教育自学考试指导委员会发布的《英语（二）自学考试大纲》和张敬源、张虹主编的《英语（二）自学教程》以及历年考试试卷，并结合英语教学理论快速发展、英语教育科技成果不断涌现的新情况，以模拟试题形式组织编写了本书。编写时，力求做到重点突出，内容全面，有针对性，又有较强的实际效果。题型包括阅读判断、阅读选择、概括段落大意和补全句子、填句补文、填词补文、完形补文和短文写作等常规考试题型。本书配有较为完整的参考答案，以供考生练习使用。

模拟试题有其局限性，希望考生在认真研读教材、大纲的基础上去练习，不可本末倒置，置教材、大纲于不顾，而一味地做题、猜题、押题，相信考生能理解我们编写此书的良苦用心。“书山有路勤为径，学海无涯苦作舟。”辅导书固然好，但也只是一个助手，在通往成功之路上，更多的是需要自学者的勤奋和努力。

“梅花香自苦寒来。”考生在学习英语（二）课程的过程中，只有掌握恰当的

学习方法，熟读所学内容，多做练习，才能学好这门课程，取得优异的成绩，实现梦想。

知识随时在更新，我们会根据新形势、新情况，应广大考生要求，编写出更多、更新、更适合自考、更符合自考规律的辅导书。

在编写本书时，我们吸收了国内同行的许多经验和优秀教学成果，并得到西南科技大学、四川旅游学院、四川大学、四川农业大学、成都信息工程大学、四川科技职业学院、成都航空职业技术学院、四川交通职业技术学院、西南财经大学出版社等单位的大力支持，在此一并表示感谢。同时，我们向所有参与编写的老师的辛勤付出与无私奉献表示感谢。

由于编写时间仓促和经验不足，书中错误与遗漏在所难免，希望考生和助学教师在使用过程中提出批评和意见，我们将会再版时进行更新与弥补。

下面的短文后列出了 10 个句子，请根据短文的内容对每个句子做出判断：如果该句提供的是正确信息，选择 A；如果该句提供的是错误信息，选择 B；如果该句的信息文中没有提及，选择 C。

Why Is the Native Language Learnt So Well

How does it happen that children learn their mother tongue so well? When we compare them with adults learning a foreign language, we often find this interesting fact. A little child without knowledge or experience often succeeds in a complete mastery of the language. A grown-up person with fully developed mental powers, in most cases, may end up with a faulty and inexact command. What accounts for this difference?

Despite other explanations, the real answer in my opinion lies partly in the child himself, partly in the behaviour of the people around him. In the first place, the time of learning the mother tongue is the most favourable of all, namely, the first years of life. A child hears it spoken from morning till night, what is more important, always in its genuine (纯正的) form, with the right pronunciation, right intonation, and right use of words and right structure. He drinks in all the words and expressions which come to him in a fresh, ever bubbling spring. There is no resistance; there is perfect assimilation (同化).

Then the child has, as it were, private lessons all the year round, while an adult language student has each week a limited number of hours which he generally shares with others. The child has another advantage: he hears the language in all possible situations, always accompanied by the right kind of gestures and facial expressions. Here there is nothing unnatural, as is often found in language lessons in schools, when one talks about ice and snow in June or scorching (炎热的) heat in January. And what a child hears is generally what immediately interests him. Again and again, when his attempts at speech are successful, his desires are understood and fulfilled.

Finally, though a child's "teachers" may not have been trained in language teaching, their relations with him are always close and personal. They take great pains to make their lessons easy.

第二部分：阅读选择（第 11~15 题，每题 2 分，共 10 分）

阅读下面短文，请从短文后所给各题的 4 个选项（A、B、C、D）中选出 1 个最佳选项。

The Definition of "Price"

Prices determine how resources are to be used. They are also the means by which products and services that are in limited supply are rationed among buyers. The price system of the United States is a complex network composed of the prices of all the products bought and sold in the economy as well as those of a myriad of services, including labor, professional, transportation, and public-utility services. The interrelationships of all these prices make up the "system" of prices. The price of any particular product or service is linked to a broad, complicated system of prices in which everything seems to depend more or less upon everything else.

If one were to ask a group of randomly selected individuals to define "price", many would reply that price is an amount of money paid by the buyer to the seller of a product or service or, in other words, that price is the money value of a product or service as agreed upon in a market transaction. This definition is, of course, valid as far as it goes. For a complete understanding of a price in any particular transaction, much more than the amount of money involved must be known. Both the buyer and the seller should be familiar with not only the money amount, but with the amount and quality of the product or service to be exchanged, the time and place at which the exchange will take place and payment will be made, the form of money to be used, the credit terms and discounts that apply to the transaction, guarantees on the product or service, delivery terms, return privileges, and other factors. In other words, both buyer and seller should be fully aware of all the factors that comprise the total “package” being exchanged for the asked-for amount of money in order that they may evaluate a given price.

11. What is the best title for the passage?
  - A. Credit Terms in Transactions.
  - B. The Complexities of the Price System.
  - C. The Inherent Weaknesses of the Price System.
  - D. Resource Allocation and the Public Sector.
12. According to the passage, the price system is related primarily to _____.
  - A. transportation and insurance
  - B. labor and education
  - C. utilities and repairs
  - D. products and services
13. According to the passage, which of the following is NOT a factor in the complete understanding of price?
  - A. Instructions that come with a product.
  - B. Warranties that cover a product.
  - C. the quality of a product.
  - D. the quantity of a product.
14. In the last sentence of the passage, “they” refers to _____.
  - A. all the factors
  - B. return privileges
  - C. buyer and seller
  - D. money
15. The paragraph following the passage most likely discusses _____.
  - A. unusual ways to advertise products
  - B. theories about how products affect different levels of society
  - C. types of payment plans for service
  - D. how certain elements of a price “package” influence its market value

第三部分：概括段落大意和补全句子（第 16~25 题，每题 1 分，共 10 分）

阅读下面短文，请完成短文后的 2 项测试任务：（1）从第 16~20 题后所给的 6 个选项中为第①~⑤段每段选择 1 个正确的小标题；（2）从第 21~25 题后所给的 6 个选项中选择 5 个正确选项，分别完成每个句子。

Radar

①Children enjoy shouting at a high wall and hearing the sound come back to them. These sounds are called echoes（回声）. Echoes have given us a number of valuable tools.

②Echo sounding devices were early used in making maps of the ocean floor. Sounds or ultrasonic（超声的）sounds make good tools for determining how deep the water is under ships. Sometimes echoes from ultrasonic distance finding devices were prevented from working by fish swimming past or by the presence of large objects. So ultrasonic devices have been replaced by other tools.

③Radar is now a familiar tool. Like many others it was an unexpected discovery. It was first observed by two researchers, who were studying sound communication. They were sending signals from a station on one side of a river in Washington DC to a vehicle across the river. They discovered that their signals were stopped by passing ships. They recognized the importance of this discovery at once.

⑤One of the many uses of radar is as a speed control device on highways. When a person in an automobile is driving faster than the speed limit, radar will show this clearly and the traffic police can take measures to stop him.

⑥A pilot cannot fly a plane by sight alone. Many conditions such as flying at night and landing in dense fog require the pilot to use radar. Human eyes are not very good at determining speeds of approaching objects, but radar can show the pilot how fast nearby planes are moving.

Presidential Election

Presidential election is an important event that happens once every four years. Currently, the president is always elected from one of the two main parties in the United States: the Republicans and the Democrats. There are other presidential candidates. However, it is unlikely that any of these “third party” candidates will win. 26

In order to become the presidential nominee ( 候选人 ) of a party, the candidate must win the primary election. Primary elections are held throughout each state in the United States in the first half of any election year. Then, the delegates attend their party convention ( 政党代表大会 ) in order to nominate their chosen candidate. Usually, it's clear who will be the nominee. However, in the past parties have been divided and choosing a nominee has been a difficult process.

Once the nominees have been selected, they campaign throughout the country. A number of debates are usually held in order to better understand the candidates' points of view. 27 A party platform is best described as the general beliefs and policies that a party holds. Candidates cross the country by plane, bus, train or by car giving speeches. 28 In the 19th century candidates would stand on tree stumps to deliver their speeches. These stump speeches repeat the candidate's basic views and wishes for the country. They are repeated many hundreds of times by each candidate.

Many people believe that campaigns in the United States have become too negative. 29 These short ads contain sound bites which often distort ( 扭曲 ) the truth.

The United States maintains an extremely old, and some say inefficient, voting system. This system is called the Electoral College ( 总统选举团 ). Each state is assigned electoral votes based on the number of senators ( 参议员 ) and representatives that state has in Congress. 30 The number of representatives is determined by the state's population, but is never less than one. The electoral votes are decided by the popular vote in each state. One candidate wins all of the electoral votes in a state. In other words, Oregon has 8 electoral votes. If 1 million people vote for the Republican candidate and one million and ten people vote for the Democratic candidate, all 8 electoral votes will go to the democratic candidate. In the end, many people feel that this system should be abandoned.

- A. Each night you can see many attack ads on the television.
- B. These speeches are often called "stump speeches".
- C. These points of view often reflect their party's platform.
- D. It certainly hasn't happened in the last one hundred years.
- E. Each state has two Senators.
- F. Parliamentary and presidential elections should then follow.

Women and Sports

Nowadays, women in the United States and many other countries participate in a growing number of sports and games, which is a symbol of social progress, of course. This has not always been the case, however. In fact, women have not been as 31 in sports as men for a long time. Only in recent years have women begun to 32 up with men in this area. Until the 20th century, women did not often participate in sports.

Part of the explanation for this is that women simply did not have time. Many women cooked, cleaned, and took care of children. They were so busy that they did not have time for sports. A second reason, especially in the late nineteenth century, is a woman's 33 at that time was one of illness and 34. It was unladylike for a woman to get 35 in any sports activity.

There have been changes in the 36 of women in the modern world, and also changes within the world of sports. These changes 37 many more women to participate in sports. Women are no longer 38 delicate. People do not think it is unladylike for a woman to compete in sports. On the contrary, women who win in sports activities are 39 regarded.

Many women now take part in sports and games of many 40 kinds, and enjoy doing so. This development is partly the result of a change in the image of women in the modern world.

Three Ways to Become More Creative

Everyone has 41 (imagine), but most of us forget how to access it. Creativity isn't always 42 (connect) with great ideas. People at work 43 (routine) think of creative ways to solve problems. Maybe you have a 44 (trick) question to answer! Here are three techniques for you. This technique involves taking 45 (relate) ideas and finding links between them. First, think about the problem. Then find an image, for example, a candle. Write down all the ideas 46 (associate) with candles. The next stage is to relate the ideas to the problem. So imagine you want to buy a friend an 47 (origin) present; you could buy him tickets to a match or take him out for the night. Imagine that normal limitations don't exist. Think about the new 48 (possible). If your goal is to learn to ski, you can now practice 49 (ski) every day of your life. Now adapt this to reality. Look at the situation from a different point of view. Good 50 (negotiate) use this in business, and so do writers. If your goal involves other people, put yourself "in their shoes".

Now, let's share our schedule. The place we are going to visit is the Great Wall, which is the most complete and best preserved historic tourist attraction. It is the symbol of our Chinese national spirit. Fortunately, today there will be some Chinese traditional cultural performances there. You will be able to watch Chinese Kongfu, Chinese acrobatics, and dragon-lion performance. We will stay on the Great Wall for three hours, so you will have enough time to watch performance, climbing to the top and taking your photos. ### American Sports

The United States is a sports-loving nation. Sports in America take a variety of forms; organized competitive struggles, which draw huge crowds to cheer their favorite team to victory; athletic games, played for recreation anywhere sufficient space is found; and hunting and fishing. Most sports are seasonal, so that what is happening in sports depends upon the time of year. Some sports are called spectator sports, as the number of spectators really exceeds the number playing in the game.

Baseball is the most popular sport in the US. It is played throughout the spring and summer, and professional baseball teams play well into the fall. Although no other game is exactly like baseball, perhaps the one most nearly like it is the English game of cricket (板球).

Football is the most popular sport in the fall. The game originated as a college sport more than 75 years ago. It is still played by almost every college and university in the country, and the football stadiums of some of the largest universities seat as many as 80,000 people. The game is not the same as European football or soccer. In American football there are 11 players on each team, and they are dressed in padded uniforms and helmets because the game is rough and injuries are likely to occur.

Basketball is the winter sport in American schools and colleges. Like football, basketball originated in the US and is not popular in other countries. Many Americans prefer it to football because it is played indoors throughout the winter and because it is a faster game. It is a very popular game with high schools, and in more than 20 states, state-wide high school matches are held yearly.

Other spectator sports include wrestling, boxing, and horse racing. Although horse-racing fans call themselves sportsmen, the accuracy of the term is questionable, as only the jockeys (骑师) who ride the horses in the races can be considered athletes. The so-called sportsmen are the spectators, who do not “assemble” (聚集) primarily to see the horses race, but to bet upon the outcome of each race. Gambling is the attraction of horse racing.

Electricity

The modern age is an age of electricity. People are so used to electric lights, radio, televisions, and telephones that it is hard to imagine what life would be like without them. When there is a power failure, people grope about in flickering candlelight, cars hesitate in the streets because there are no traffic lights to guide them, and food spoils in silent refrigerators. Yet, people began to understand how electricity works only a little more than two centuries ago. Nature has apparently been experimenting in this field for millions of years. Scientists are discovering more and more that the living world may hold many interesting secrets of electricity that could benefit humanity.

All living cells send out tiny pulses of electricity. As the heart beats, it sends out pulses of record; they form an electrocardiogram, which a doctor can study to determine how well the heart is working. The brain, too, sends out brain waves of electricity, which can be recorded in an electroencephalogram (脑电图). The electric currents generated by most living cells are extremely small—often so small that sensitive instruments are needed to record them. But in some animals, certain muscle cells have become so specialized as electrical generators that they do not work as muscle cells at all. When large numbers of these cells are linked together, the effects can be astonishing.

The electric eel is an amazing storage battery. It can send a jolt of as much as eight hundred volts of electricity through the water in which it lives. (An electric house current is only one hundred twenty volts.) As many as four fifths of all the cells in the electric eel's body are specialized for generating electricity, and the strength of the shock it can deliver corresponds roughly to the length of its body.

11. What is the main idea of the passage?
  - A. Electric eels are potentially dangerous.
  - B. Biology and electricity appear to be closely related.
  - C. People would be at a loss without electricity.

13. Why does the author mention electric eels?
  - A. To compare their voltage to that used in houses.
  - B. To warn the reader to stay away from them.
  - C. To give an example of a living electrical generator.

14. How many volts of electricity can an electric eel emit?

第三部分：概括段落大意和补全句子（第16~25题，每题1分，共10分）

阅读下面短文，请完成短文后的2项测试任务：（1）从第16~20题后所给的6个选项中为第①~⑤段每段选择1个正确的小标题；（2）从第21~25题后所给的6个选项中选择5个正确选项，分别完成每个句子。

Local Newspapers in Britain

① Britain has a large circulation of the national newspapers. The Daily Mirror and The Daily Express both sell about 4 million copies each day. On average, every family will buy one newspaper in the morning, and take two or three on Sunday.

② Local newspapers are just as popular as the national ones in Britain. Local papers have a weekly circulation of 13 million. Nearly every town and country area has its own paper, and almost every local paper is financially holding its own. Many local newspapers are earning good profits.

④ The editor of a local newspaper never forgets that the success of any newspaper depends on advertising. For this reason, he is keen to keep the good will of local businessmen. If the newspaper sells well with carefully chosen news items to attract local readers, the businessmen will be grateful to the paper for the opportunity of keeping their products in the public eye.

⑤ Local newspapers seldom comment on problems of national importance, and editors rarely take sides on political questions. But they can often provide service to the community in expressing public feeling on local issues. A newspaper can sometimes persuade the council to take action to improve transport, provide better shopping facilities, and preserve local monuments and places of interest.

第四部分：填句补文（第 26~30 题，每题 2 分，共 10 分）

Life Can Be Happy and Meaningful

Not long ago, a poll was conducted among students in a middle school. They were asked to make a choice between these two sentences— “No one can be happy” and “One can be happy”. Shockingly enough, about 60 percent of the students agreed to the first statement. But to live on, we’ d better say to ourselves that there is happiness in life.

26 The more I think, the more I am convinced that if we have a right attitude towards life, our lives can surely be happy and meaningful.

It is true that all people have some bitter experiences. 27 Many people admire Madam Curie, and say with a sigh, “If I could live like her, I would be the happiest person in the world.” But if we take a close look at her life, we will find her happiness is closely connected with her misfortunes. First of all, she did not have a happy childhood.

28 In her research work, she had to sit up late night after night. She experienced many losses too—she lost her beloved father, her dear husband, and later her eyesight. But she never complained and never stopped working for the benefit of mankind. That is why her life was happy and meaningful. 29

Some people complain that their work is insignificant and thus their lives are meaningless. But what kind of work is significant? Worker, peasants, teachers, and scientists, they are all working for the welfare of mankind, themselves included. That is where the meaning of life lies. 30 Once a friend of mine told me he felt very wretched for having to work as a teacher. “Our lives can be compared to candles. While giving light to others, we ourselves are burning out. Our students may become famous one day, but what will become of us? We shall only remain what we are—fameless and wealthless.” Paradoxically, I would rather think he was giving a vivid description of the nobleness of a teacher. Different people may think of life differently. But of one thing I am certain: happiness never favors those who merely care about themselves, and the meaning of life cannot be understood by those who refuse to sacrifice anything for others.

- A. But some people seem to think little of such a life.
- B. She awoke to the realities of life.
- C. When she was in France, she studied twice as hard as others but lived a poor and simple life.
- D. She fought against life's bitterness and difficulties and conquered them all.
- E. I have been thinking of this question ever since.
- F. But it is through overcoming hardships that our happiness emerges.

What Makes a Soccer Player Great?

Soccer is played by millions of people all over the world, but there have only been few players who were truly great. How did these 31 get that way—was it through training and practice, or are great players' bom, not made?

First, these players 32 from places that have had famous stars in the past—players that a young boy can look up to and try to imitate. In the history of soccer, only six countries have ever 33 the World Cup—three from South America and three from Western Europe. There has never been a great national team—or a really great player—from North America or from Asia. Second, these players have all had years of 34 in the game. Alfredo Di Stefano was the son of a soccer player, as was Pele. Most players begin playing the game at the 35 of three or four. 36, many great players come from the same kind of neighborhood—a poor, crowded area where a boy's 37 is not to be a doctor, lawyer, or businessman, but to become rich, famous athlete or entertainer. For example, Liverpool which produced the Beatles (甲壳虫乐队), had one of the best English soccer teams in 38 years. Pele practiced in the street with a “ball” made of rags (破布).

All great players have a lot in 39, but that doesn't explain why they are great. Hundreds of boys played in those Brazilian streets, but only one became Pele. The greatest players are born with some 40 quality that sets them apart from all the others.

A. dream	B. won	C. practice
D. age	E. came	F. therefore
G. recent	H. finally	I. unique
J. players	K. common	L. got

How do Americans Spend Their Free Time?

Americans spend their free time in 41 (variety) ways. People enjoy building things and 42 (sew) their own clothes. They do these things for fun and for 43 (economic). 25 million adults continue their education, 44 (chief) by going to school in the evening at their own 45 (expensive). Americans also devote a lot of their time to the needs of their communities, often without any pay. Why do they do it?

There are several answers. The idea of 46 (cooperate) and sharing responsibility with one another for the benefit of all is as old as the country itself. When the country was first 47 (found) in 1776, it was necessary for the settlers to work together to live. They had crossed dangerous seas and risked all they had for political and 48 (religion) freedom. It is true that some people use their leisure because they are 49 (true) interested in the work; or that they are learning from the experience. No matter what the reason is, hundreds of thousands of so called leisure hours are put into hard, 50 (pay) work on one or another community need.

The First Settlement in North America

It is very difficult to say just when colonization (殖民) began. The first hundred years after Christopher Columbus's journey of discovery in 1492 did not produce any settlement on the North America continent but rather some Spanish trading posts in South America, a great interest in gold and adventure, and some colorful crimes in which the English had their part. John Cabot, originally from Genoa but a citizen of Venice, was established as a trader in Bristol, England, when he made a journey in 1497. But his ship, the Matthew, with its crew of eighteen, did no more than see an island (probably off the New England coast) and return home. He and his son made further voyages across the north Atlantic which enabled the English crown to claim a "legal" title to North America. But for a long time afterwards the Europeans' interest in America was mainly confined to the Spanish activities further south.

The first beginning of permanent settlement in North America was nearly a hundred years after Columbus's first voyage. The Englishman Sir Walter Raleigh claimed the whole of North America for England, calling it Virginia. In 1585 he sent a small group of people who landed in Roanoke Island, but they stayed only for a year and then went back to England with another expedition, led by Drake, in 1587. A second group who landed in 1587 had all disappeared when a further expedition arrived in 1590.

The first permanent settlement in North America was in 1607. English capitalists founded two Virginia companies, a southern one based in London and a northern one based in Bristol. It was decided to give the name New England to the northern area. The first settlers in Virginia were little more than wage slaves to the company. All were men and the experiment was not very successful. Many died. Those who survived lived in miserable conditions. By 1619 the colony had only a thousand people.

Cells and Temperature

Cells cannot remain alive outside certain limits of temperature, and much narrower limits mark the boundaries of effective functioning. Enzyme (酶) systems of mammals and birds are most efficient only within a narrow range around 37°C; a departure of a few degrees from this value seriously impairs their functioning. Even though cells can survive wider fluctuations, the integrated actions of bodily systems are impaired. Other animals have a wider tolerance for changes of bodily temperature.

For centuries it has been recognized that mammals and birds differ from other animals in the way they regulate body temperatures. Ways of characterizing the difference have become more accurate and meaningful over time, but popular terminology still reflects the old division into “warm-blooded”, and “cold-blooded” species; warm-blooded included mammals and birds, whereas all other creatures were considered cold-blooded. As more species were studied, it became evident that this classification was inadequate. A fence lizard or a desert iguana (鬣蜥)—each cold-blooded—usually has a body temperature only a degree or two below that of humans and so is not cold. Therefore the next distinction was made between animals that maintain a constant body temperature, called homotherms (同温动物), and those whose body temperature varies with their environment, called poikilotherms (变温动物). But this classification also proved inadequate, because among mammals there are many that vary their body temperatures during hibernation. Furthermore, many invertebrates (无脊椎动物) that live in the depths of the ocean never experience a change in the chill of the deep water, and their body temperatures remain constant.

The current distinction is between animals whose body temperature is regulated chiefly by internal metabolic processes and those whose temperature is regulated by, and who get most of their heat from the environment. The former are called endotherms (恒温动物), and the latter are called ectotherms (外温动物). Most ectotherms do regulate their body temperature, and they do so mainly by locomoting to favorable sites or by changing their exposure to external sources of heat. Endotherms (mainly mammals and birds) also regulate their temperature by choosing favorable environments, but primarily they regulate their temperatures by making a variety of internal adjustments.

Digital Video Express

① A pay-for-play system for video DVD will emerge by summer as an alternative, and possibly a competitor, to the DVD format currently available.

⑤ Some Divx discs could be converted for unlimited play at a price likely to be lower than buying a conventional DVD. Others, called Divx Gold, would be sold from the beginning for unlimited play without further charge. Although conventional DVDs will run in a Divx player, conventional DVD players will lack the decoding (解码) and communications ability to play Divx discs. Divx players will be offered by Panasonic, RCA, and Zenith.

How do Movies or Television Influence People's Behavior?

The impact that modern mass media such as movies or televisions has had on our daily life, and society in general, is undeniable. No doubt it will become more and more sophisticated, and so fascinating that virtually nobody will be able to escape. 26 They grow long-hair regardless of their sex, commonly part of which are dyed in gold; they wear jeans in each and every season, usually knees of which are deliberately tattered; boys are fond of earrings or other odd pendants; and girls are keen on Marlboros and weird coarse languages.

The major means that mass media influences the public is by creating topics of discussion in the society. 27 Titanic had brought a worldwide uproar by its extolling, fascinating and immortal love; Wag the Dog met the national debate on right and duty of the president of the United States. Antiwar movies such as Tears of the Sun and All Quiet on the Western Front among numerous others have been raising the question: is any war really to uphold justice or is it really worthy that an individual makes sacrifices to this country and at the same time ignores his own family or his personal values?

28 The “important” issues are to be found on the first pages of the newspaper or in the beginning of a television program. The “not important” stories are the ones that are not being told at all. 29 In fact censorships present all mass media including its distributing means such as the Internet. By prearranging public issue, the mass media makes decisions for us. Even though there are critical thinking individuals in any society, they are definite minority; the public in whole indeed lack skills of critical thinking, and therefore they are often led by the media.

In brief, mass media, by offering topics and affecting the ways in which we discuss “the important issues”, has a strong influence on our perception of the truth, of the world or of the structure of our society. 30

- A. We have to admit that it has a role in our lives as a source.
- B. Mass media offers people (the consumers) issues to talk and think about.
- C. Not long ago mass media was about the only kind of culture there was.
- D. The “not very important” stories are probably very short and hidden in the last pages.
- E. Already, it can be seen how western movies are exercising influence on our youth generation.
- F. Mass media also shapes our understanding of what is important and what is not important to know.

Preserving Nature for Future

Demands for stronger protection for wildlife in Britain sometimes hide the fact that similar needs are felt in the rest of Europe. Studies by the Council of Europe have 31 that 45 per cent of reptile (爬行动物) species and 24 per cent of butterflies (蝴蝶) are in 32 of dying out.

European concern for wildlife was outlined by Dr. Peter Baum, an expert in the environment and natural resources division of the council, when he spoke at a conference arranged by the administrators of a British national park. The 33 is one of the few areas in Europe to hold the council's diploma (证书) for nature reserves (自然保护区), he was 34 that public opinion was turning against national parks, and that those set up in the 1960s and 1970s could not be 35 up today.

“No area could be expected to survive both as a true 36 reserve and as a tourist attraction,” he went on. The short-sighted view that reserves had to serve 37 human demands for outdoor recreation should be 38 by full acceptance of their importance as places to preserve nature for the future.

“We forget that they are the guarantee of life systems, on which any built-up area ultimately depends.” Dr. Baum went on. “We could manage without most 39 products, but we could not manage without nature. However, our natural environment areas, which are the original parts of our countryside, have shrunk (缩小) to mere islands in a spoiled and 40 polluted landmass.”

A. nature	B. heavily	C. immediate
D. set	E. shown	F. said
G. afraid	H. industrial	I. replaced
J. park	K. danger	L. risk

Why do We Use E-mail?

Personal computers and the Internet give people new choices about how to spend their time.

Some may use this 41 (free) to share some time with certain friends or family members, but new technology will also let them stay in closer touch with those they care about most. I know this from 42 (person) experience.

E-mail makes it easy to work at home, which is where I now spend most weekends and evenings. My 43 (work) hours aren't necessarily much 44 (short) than they once were but I spend fewer of them at the office. This lets me share more time with my young daughter than I might have if she'd been born before electronic mail became such a 45 (practice) tool.

The Internet also makes it easy to share 46 (think) with a group of friends. Say you do something fun, see a great movie perhaps, and there are four or five friends who might want to hear about it. If you call each one, you may tire of 47 (tell) the story.

With E-mail, you just write one note about your experience, at your 48 (convenient), and address it to all the friends you think might be interested. They can read your message when they have time, and read only as much as they want to. They can reply when they are 49 (avail) and you can read what they have to say when you have time. E-mail is also an 50 (expense) way to stay in close touch with people who live far away.

Dear Sir,

I wish to apply for a position with your company as an assistant accountant. I am twenty-six years old and at present employed by the Island Company, where I have been for the past two years. My only reason for leaving either of these positions would be to better myself and I feel there is no future opportunity in my present position. I wish to serve in a large company like yours which can provide me with ample opportunities to learn new things. I can give you references from both these firms I worked in as to my character and ability as an accountant. My present salary is 2,600 yuan a month and I would not care to accept less in another position, provided there is an opportunity for advancement, but I am willing to start at the same salary.

Stomach Ulcer

Stomach ulcers (溃疡) are the cause of severe pain for many people. Doctors have been able to help lessen the pain of ulcers. They could not cure them. Now doctors have discovered a cause of ulcers. This means they may have found a way to cure people who suffer from the stomach pain. Studies show that ten percent of the population will develop an ulcer at some time in their life. So a possible cure is good news for many people.

Ulcers are wounds in the stomach that are similar to small cuts or tears. These wounds can harm the tissue (生物组织) in the stomach, the pipe that carries the food to the stomach or parts of the small intestines (肠). Fluids (液体) in the stomach then increase the pain of an ulcer. How does a person know he or she has an ulcer? Doctors say most people with ulcers feel a burning pain in their chest or stomach. This is pain often called heart-burn. It usually happens before eating or during the night. It causes some people to lose their desire to eat, or they are unable to keep food in their stomachs.

Doctors believed that ulcers were caused by unusually strong stomach fluids, which damaged stomach tissue. Now they have discovered that most ulcers are caused by a bacterial (细菌的) organism (有机体) called Helicobacter Pylori or H Pylori. H Pylori bacteria are what make stomach produce extra stomach fluid. Doctors found that they can kill the bacteria with medicines called antibiotics (抗生素). Health experts say the discovery of a cure for ulcers can save thousands of millions of dollars in medical costs. They also believe curing ulcers will reduce the number of people who develop stomach cancer. The number of people with stomach cancer is very high in Japan, Southeast Asia and parts of Africa.

Doctors say a person is more likely to get an ulcer if someone in his or her family has had one. In fact a person with the family history of ulcers is three times more likely to get one than other people. There are ways people can protect themselves from developing an ulcer. Doctors say it is more important to reduce the amount of strong fluids in the stomach. To do this, doctors say, people should not smoke cigarettes or drink alcohol. And they say people should reduce tension in their lives.

The Language of Music

A painter hangs his or her finished picture on a wall, and everyone can see it. A composer writes a work, but no one can hear it until it is performed. Professional singers and players have great responsibilities, for the composer is utterly dependent on them. A student of music needs as long and as arduous a training to become a performer as a medical student needs to become a doctor. Most training is concerned with technique, for musicians have to have the muscular proficiency of an athlete or a ballet dancer. Singers practice breathing every day, as their vocal chords would be inadequate without controlled muscular support. String players practice moving the fingers of the left hand up and down, while drawing the bow to and fro with the right arm—two entirely different movements.

Singers and instrumentalists have to be able to get every note perfectly in tune. Pianists are spared this particular anxiety, for the notes are already there, waiting for them, and it is the piano tuner's responsibility to tune the instrument for them. But they have their own difficulties: the hammers that hit the strings have to be coaxed not to sound like percussion（撞击、碰撞）and each overlapping tone has to sound clear.

This problem of getting clear texture is one that confronts student conductors: they have to learn to know every note of the music and how it should sound, and they have to aim at controlling these sounds with fanatical（狂热的）but selfless authority.

Technique is of no use unless it is combined with musical knowledge and understanding. Great artists are those who are so thoroughly at home in the language of music that they can enjoy performing works written in any century.

11. Which of the following best states the main idea of the passage?
  - A. It is easier to study medicine than music.
  - B. Painters and composers use totally different methods to reach the public.
  - C. All musicians must know how to time their own instruments.
  - D. Musicians must acquire technique and understanding to perform well.
12. According to the passage, by doing which of the following could performers best meet their obligation to composers?
  - A. Taking courses in art appreciation.
  - B. Knowing how the music was intended to be performed.
  - C. Studying works written at different periods in history.
  - D. Rearranging musical scores for their particular instrument.
13. Why does the author mention athletes and ballet dancers?
  - A. To contrast the requirements of each field of study.
  - B. To discourage music students from continuing their studies.
  - C. To motivate students to work harder to achieve their goals.
  - D. To show that music students must develop great physical coordination.

The Weight Experiment

①Nicola Waiters has been taking part in experiments in Scotland to discover why humans gain and lose weight. Being locked in a small room called a “calorimeter”（热量测量室）is one way to find out.

②The signs above the two rooms read simply “Chamber One” and “Chamber Two”. These are the calorimeters: 4m by 2m white-walled rooms where human volunteers are locked up in the name of science. Outside these rooms another sign reads “Please do not enter—work in progress” and in front of the rooms advanced machinery registers every move the volunteers make. Each day, meals measured to the last gram are passed through a hole in the wall of the calorimeter to the resident volunteer.

③Nicola Waiters is one of twenty volunteers who, over the past eight months, have spent varying periods inside the calorimeter. Tall and slim, Nicola does not have a weight problem, but thought the strict diet might help with her training and fitness program. A self-employed community dance worker, she was able to fit the experiment in around her work. She saw an advert for volunteers at her local gym and as she is interested in the whole area of diet and exercise, she thought she would help out.

④The experiment on Nicola involved her spending one day on a fixed diet at home and the next in the room. This sequence was repeated four times over six weeks. She arrived at the calorimeter at 8:30 a.m. on each of the four mornings and from then on everything she ate or drank was carefully measured. Her every move was noted too, her daily exercise routine timed to the last second. At regular intervals, after eating, she filled in forms about how hungry she felt and samples were taken for analysis.

⑤The scientists help volunteers impose a kind of order on the long days they face in the room. “The first time, I only took one video and a book, but it was OK because I watched TV the rest of the time,” says Nicola. And twice a day she used the exercise bike. She pedaled (踩踏板) for half an hour, watched by researchers to make sure she didn't go too fast.

⑥ It seems that some foods encourage you to eat more, while others satisfy you quickly. Volunteers are already showing that high-fat diets are less likely to make you feel full. Believing that they may now know what encourages people to overeat, the researchers are about to start testing a high-protein weight-loss diet. Volunteers are required and Nicola has signed up for further sessions.

The Origin of Mothers' Day

In the United States Mothers' Day is a holiday celebrated on the second Sunday in May. It is a day when children honor their mothers with cards, gifts, and flowers. First observance was in Philadelphia in 1907. 26

Although it wasn't celebrated in the United States until 1907, there were days honoring mothers even in the days of ancient Greece. 27

Later, in the 1600's, in England there was an annual observance called "Mothering Sunday". 28 On Mothering Sunday, the servants, who generally lived with their employers, were encouraged to return home and honor their mothers. It was traditional for them to bring a special cake along to celebrate the occasion.

Mother's Day was first suggested in the United States in 1872 by Julia Ward Howe as a day dedicated to peace. In 1907 Ana Jarvis, from Philadelphia, began a campaign to establish a national Mother's Day. Jarvis persuaded her mother's church in Grafton, West Virginia to celebrate Mother's Day on the second anniversary of her mother's death, the 2nd Sunday of May. The next year Mother's Day was also celebrated in Philadelphia.

Jarvis and others began a letter-writing campaign to ministers, businessmen, and politicians in their quest to establish a national Mother's Day. 29 President Woodrow Wilson, in 1914, made the official announcement proclaiming Mother's Day a national observance that was to be held each year on the 2nd Sunday of May.

30 Denmark, Finland, Italy, Turkey, Australia, and Belgium celebrate Mother's Day on the second Sunday in May, as in the United States.

A. Mother's day should not be just another day with a few flowers thrown in.

B. In those days, however, it was Rhea, the Mother of the gods that was given honor.

C. Many other countries of the world celebrate their own Mother's Day at different times throughout the year.

D. They were successful.

E. It was celebrated during June, on the fourth Sunday.

F. It is based on suggestions by Julia Ward Howe in 1872 and by Anna Jarvis in 1907.

A Thirsty World

The world is not only hungry; it is also thirsty for water. This may seem strange to you since nearly 75% of the earth's surface is 31 with water. But about 97% of this huge amount is seawater, or salty water. Man can only drink and use the other 3% — the 32 water that comes from rivers, lakes, underground, and other sources. And we cannot even use all of that, because some of it is in the form of icebergs and glaciers. Even 33, some of it has been polluted.

At the moment, this small amount of fresh water is still enough for us. However, our demand for water is increasing 34. Only if we take steps to deal with this problem now can we avoid a severe worldwide water 35 later on.

In addition to stopping wasting our precious water, one useful step we should take is to 36 ways of reusing it.

Today, in most large cities, water is used only 37 and it eventually returns to the sea or runs into underground storage tanks. But it is 38 to pipe water that has been used to a purifying (净化) plant. There it can be filtered and treated with chemicals so that it can be used again just as if it were fresh from a spring.

But even if every large city purified and 39 its water, we still would not have enough. Where could we turn next? To the oceans! We can make use of the vast amount of sea-water by removing the salt. This salt-removing 40 is already in use in many parts of the world.

A. used	B. fresh	C. develop
D. process	E. possible	F. shortage
G. worse	H. reused	I. rapidly
J. covered	K. new	L. once

Problems Caused by Using Computers

Long hours at the screen can cause 41 (ache) eyes, 42 (blur) vision and headaches, experts say. In fact, eyestrain surpasses even wrist pain as the top physical 43 (complain) among heavy computer users. When peering into the computer screen, the eye's focusing muscle is at constant tension. Like any muscle, it feels sore when 44 (overload). And when someone spends a lot of time looking at something close, the eye muscle can get 45 (stick) on the near-focus setting and have difficulty relaxing, leaving the person 46 (temporary) nearsighted, a condition called accommodative spasm (痉挛) that can last seconds or hours. The letters on the screen are not as clearly 47 (define) as on a printed page. Take a magnifying glass to your monitor and you'll see the letters, each made up of pinpoint sources of light, have no sharp edges. But those liquid crystal display (LCD) monitors, like those found on laptop computers, are 48 (easy) on the eyes because they display sharper images. And studies have shown that when people are working on a computer, their rate of 49 (blink) goes down by two-thirds, which can result in dry, stinging eyes. This is especially a problem for contact-lenses 50 (wear).

Dear Jean,

As you know, we'll be moving to a new house soon and there are a few things that I won't be able to take with me. The new house is a bit smaller so I have to sell some furniture and I was wondering if you might be interested.

In particular I want to sell my big dining table. Do you remember it — the one in the living room? It has wooden legs and a grey glass top and it's big enough for six people. There are six mating chairs to go with it.

I know you've always liked this furniture so I could let you have it at a good price. I'd rather sell it to you than to a stranger.

Why don't you come around and take another look at them on Saturday? We'll be here all day that day, so maybe we could have some lunch together.

Give me a ring and let me know if the time is convenient for you.

Sincerely yours,

Li Hua

A Pay Rise or Not?

“Unless I get a rise, I’ll have a talk with the boss, Henry Manley,” George Strong said to himself. George liked his job and he liked the town he lived in, but his wife kept telling him that his pay was not enough to meet the needs of the family. That was why he was thinking of taking a job in Birmingham, a nearby city, about 50 miles away. He had been offered a job in a factory there, and the pay was far better.

George lived in Wyeford, a medium-sized town. He really liked the place and didn’t like the idea of moving somewhere else, but if he took the job in Birmingham, he would have to move his family there.

Henry Manley was the manager of a small company manufacturing electric motors. The company was in deep trouble because, among other reasons, the Japanese were selling such things at very low prices. As a result, Manley had to cut his own prices and profits as well. Otherwise he would not get any orders at all. Even then, orders were still not coming in fast enough, so that there was no money for raises for his workers.

Somehow, he had to struggle along and keep his best workers as well. He sighed. Just then the phone rang.

His secretary told him that George Strong wanted to see him as soon as possible. Manley sighed again. He could guess what it was about. George Strong was a very young engineer. ### Evolution of Sleep

Sleep is very ancient. In the electroencephalographic（脑电图仪的）sense we share it with all the primates（灵长类动物）and almost all the other mammals and birds; it may extend back as far as the reptiles（爬行动物）.

There is some evidence that the two types of sleep, dreaming and dreamless, depend on the life-style of the animal, and that predators（食肉动物）are statistically much more likely to dream than prey, which are in turn much more likely to experience dreamless sleep. In dream sleep, the animal is powerfully immobilized（使固定不动）and remarkably unresponsive to external stimuli. Dreamless sleep is much shallower, and we have all witnessed cats or dogs cocking their ears to a sound when apparently fast asleep. The fact that deep dream sleep is rare among prey today seems clearly to be a product of natural selection, and it makes sense that today, when sleep is highly evolved, the stupid animals are less frequently immobilized by deep sleep than the smart ones.

But why should they sleep deeply at all? Why should a state of such deep immobilization ever have evolved? Perhaps one useful hint about the original function of sleep is to be found in the fact that dolphins and whales and aquatic mammals in general seem to sleep very little. There is, by and large, no place to hide in the ocean. Could it be that, rather than increasing an animal's vulnerability, the function of sleep is to decrease it? Wilse Webb of the University of Florida and Ray Meddis of London University have suggested this to be the case. It is conceivable that animals who are too stupid to be quiet on their own initiative are, during periods of high risk, immobilized by the implacable arm of sleep. The point seems particularly clear for the young of predatory animals. This is an interesting notion and probably at least partly true.

11. The author states that during dream sleep, the animal sleeps _____.
  - A. without moving
  - B. shallowly
  - C. intermittently
  - D. on its side
12. It can be inferred from the passage that animals that are prey rarely experience dream sleep because they _____.

Volts From the Sky

①Lightning has caused awe and wonder since old times. Although Benjamin Franklin demonstrated lightning as enormous electrical discharge more than 200 years ago, many puzzles still surround this powerful phenomenon.

②Lightning is generated when electrical charges separate in rain clouds, though processes are still not fully understood. Typically, positive charges build at the cloud top, while the bottom becomes negatively charged. In most instances of cloud-to-ground lightning, the negatively charged lower portion of the cloud repels negatively charged particles on the ground's surfaces, making it become positively charged. The positive charge on the ground gathers at elevated points. A flow of electrons begins between the cloud and earth. When the voltage charge becomes large enough, it breaks through the insulating barrier of air, and electrons zigzag earthward. We see the discharge as lightning.

③Lightning can occur within a cloud, between clouds, or between clouds and the ground. The first variety, intra-cloud lightning, is the most frequent but is often hidden from our view. Cloud-to-ground lightning, making up about 20 percent of lightning discharges, is what we usually see. Lightning comes in several forms, including sheet, ribbon, and ball. Intra-cloud lightning can illuminate a cloud so it looks like a white sheet, hence its name. When cloud-to-ground lightning occurs during strong winds, they can shift the lightning channel sideways, so it looks like a ribbon. The average lightning strike is more than 3 miles long and can travel at a tenth of the speed of light. Ball lightning, the rarest and most mysterious form, derives its name from the small luminous ball that appears near the impact point, moves horizontally, and lasts for several seconds.

④Thunder is generated by the tremendous heat released in a lightning discharge. Temperatures near the discharge can reach as high as 50,000 °F within thousandths of a second. This sudden heating acts as an explosion, generating shock waves we hear as thunder.

⑤ About 2,000 thunderstorms are occurring in the world at any tie, generating about 100 lighting strikes every second, or 8 million daily. Within the United States, lightning strikes are estimated at 20 million a year, or about 22,000 per day. You have a 1-in-600,000 chance of being struck by lightning during your lifetime. Lightning can strike twice or more in the same spot. The Empire State Building in New York is struck by lightning about two dozen times annually.

Elections

Surprises often come in boxes, such as birthday presents wrapped in colorful paper, brown paper packages mailed from a friend. No matter what kind of box it is, people like to open it up and see what's inside. In America, and in many other countries, one special kind of box contains the future. It's called a ballot box. What people put into the box on Election Day can change the course of history.

Elections are the lifeblood of a democracy. The word democracy literally means “the people rule”. 26 In the mid 1700s, England began passing laws that made the American colonies angry. The colonists had to pay more and more taxes and enjoyed less and less freedom. 27 On July 4, 1776, the colonies declared their independence from England. They wanted to establish a democracy where people could have a voice in government.

An effective democracy holds regular elections. 28 In these elections, all seats in the House of Representatives and one third of the Senate seats are up for grabs. In addition, every four years, voters go to the polls to elect the nation's president and vice-president. Voters also regularly cast their ballots for state and city government leaders and local school board members. Sometimes they also have to vote on a proposed law.

In the American electoral system, people don't really vote for presidential candidates. 29 Each state has as many electors as the total number of its representatives in Congress. This equals two senators per state plus the number of its representatives in the House (which is based on the state's population). The candidate who has the most votes in a state wins all of the state's electors. To win the presidential election, a candidate must gain at least 270 of the 538 total electoral votes.

Over the years, the U. S. has made a number of election reforms. Some early reforms outlawed cheating, giving bribes and threatening voters. 30

In November, Americans will again elect those who will represent them in government. Although some citizens aren't even registered to vote—and some registered voters don't bother to go to the polls — most Americans exercise their right to vote. They realize that their future is wrapped up in a special package—the ballot box. It's a package that must definitely be “handled with care”.

- A. In 1971, the voting age was lowered to 18.
- B. They felt the government of England didn't represent their interests.
- C. Instead, voters cast their ballots for “electors” who support each candidate.
- D. In America, elections are held every two years for members of Congress.
- E. They also limited the amount of money candidates could receive from donors and spend on their campaigns.
- F. That is an important concept in American history.

How to Deal With Pressure?

With the current mood of global 41 (certain) and an 42 (economy) recession, people are likely to suffer from increased stress, depression and anxiety. These 43 (psychology) symp-toms, in a new twist to the old saying of “mind over matter”, can lead to actual physical problems.

The mind and the body are 44 (integrate) system. It's like a web. If one part is 45 (disturb), it will directly or indirectly, affect another part. Hence, psychological and emotional reactions will trigger physical responses.

When a person feels a threat to his well-being, the brain reacts by 46 (release) chemicals. For example, the adrenal gland in the brain may release adrenaline (肾上腺

素) which prepares the body to respond to physical threats. The brain's neuro-chemistry programs a person to react in one of the classic ways: fight, flight or fright.

Are you sleeping well? Are you eating well? Are you working or studying well? Any mental health problem would affect these three areas of behavior. Some people deal with stress and 47 (anxious) by turning to 48 (religious), others by talking to friends and family. But are there other options? Exercise is a good outlet. Play a game. Go jogging. You will be 49 (concentrate) on doing something. There is a target to be 50 (achieve) and will occupy your mind. Go Karaoke singing and dancing with friends. The worst thing to do is to sit at home and think.

第七部分：短文写作

The Value of Self-confidence

My friends often ask me, “Joe, why are you so carefree all the time?” The answer is quite simple. I owe my light-hearted attitude to self-confidence.

I remember the first time I participated in an English competition. Three years ago, my classmates chose me to speak in an English competition at our school. When I went on stage, I had butterflies in my stomach. Suddenly, my mother's words came back to me: “If you want to do something, it costs nothing but self-confidence.” Since I was chosen to be there, it meant I must have the ability to succeed “Take it easy”, I said silently. “You have prepared for this competition for three months. You are the best”. Strangely, my nervousness vanished after I spoke to myself with such confidence. I began to speak onstage fluently—the feeling was wonderful. The whole audience applauded afterwards. I was successful!

So, my friends, be confident!

The Stranger Who Changed My Life

It was a sunny morning in the spring of 1966. I was driving a taxi, looking for a customer. While passing New York Hospital, I found a man running down the hospital steps, waving at me.

I stopped. The man reached the taxi and jumped in. "The Airport, please," he said. As always, I wondered about my passenger. Was this man a talker? After a few moments, he started saying, "How do you like driving a taxi?"

"It's OK," I said. "I make a living and meet interesting people sometimes."

"What do you do?" I asked.

"I am a doctor at New York Hospital."

Many times during long rides, I'd developed a good relationship with my passengers and received very good advice from them. This time I decided to ask for his help.

"Could I ask a favor of you?" He didn't answer. "I have a son, 15, a good kid. He wants a job this summer. Is it possible that you get one for him?"

He still wasn't talking, and I was starting to feel foolish. Finally, he said, "Well, my students have a summer research project. Maybe he could join in. Have him send me his school record."

He left his address and paid me. It was the last time I ever saw him.

Robbie sent off his grades the next morning. And gradually this incident was forgotten. Two weeks later, when I arrived home from work, Robbie handed me a letter. He was informed to call Dr. Plum for an interview.

Robbie got the job. The following summer, Robbie worked at the hospital again, but this time, he was given more responsibility. Then, he worked at the hospital for a third summer and gradually developed a love of medical profession.

Talk to Your Kids About Their Eating Habits Carefully

Weight is never an easy subject. It can be risky for parents to raise the issue of eating habits and weight with their kids.

“No kid ever lost weight because his mother told him he was fat,” a friend told me when I was worried about my son’s weight.

It turns out she was right, according to a new study. The study was directed by Dr. Berge at University of Minnesota. She found that kids whose parents discussed eating in a healthy way were less likely to have eating problems. But 64% of the kids whose parents focused on their weight turned to unhealthy eating behaviors. Some kids went on extreme diets, and others even ate no food. So eating disorders were caused. Things were worse when fathers joined in the discussions with their daughters and focused on weight. “Fathers should never comment on their daughters’ weight,” says Berge. Instead, she suggests, fathers should focus on their daughters’ interests. That can help them feel loved and confident enough to work on their weight issues.

How should parents talk to kids about eating behaviors? According to Berge, they should avoid focusing on how much their kids weigh. They should talk to them about being healthy. Don’t compare them with others. Ideally, both parents should share the responsibility. If that’s not possible, choose the parent whose words cause the least amount of stress and who demonstrates healthy eating.

第三部分：概括段落大意和补全句子（第 16~25 题，每题 1 分，共 10 分）

阅读下面短文，请完成短文后的 2 项测试任务：（1）从第 16~20 题后所给的 6 个选项中为第①~⑤段每段选择 1 个正确的小标题；（2）从第 21~25 题后所给的 6 个选项中选择 5 个正确选项，分别完成每个句子。

Plagiarism (剽窃)

① You just found some good stuff on the web for your science report. You copy a paragraph and paste it into your report. Then you continue your research. But you just made a big mistake. You committed plagiarism. Plagiarism is when you use someone else's words or ideas and pretend that they are yours. It's not allowed in school, college, or beyond.

② The word "plagiarism" comes from Latin. It means stealing a person's ideas. But it's not always easy to tell what is plagiarism and what is not. Sometimes, it's accidental. You really intended to do your own work, yet ended up with some sentences that sound just like something you've read.

③ Though plagiarism can be accidental, it's sometimes done on purpose. That's just being lazy. By copying whole paragraphs from different places, you don't have to spend the time thinking about the subject, gathering your own thoughts about it, and then putting them into original words. Cut, paste, and you're done.

④ Most schools are pretty strict about plagiarism. If you're caught, your graduation will be delayed or worse. At the very least you're probably going to fail the assignment. When you're older and in college, some schools will kick out students who plagiarize. When you're kicked out of one college, it can be hard to get into another.

⑤ To be on the safe side, always make it clear where the information comes from. You need to write references. That's a list of the sources you used for a project or report. To do that, you'll need to know the author, the title, and the date it was published. If you write something really great, maybe some day someone will quote you in a report.

Fruit

Imagine a world without fruit. We wouldn't be very healthy. We get a lot of important vitamins from eating fruit.

We think of fruit primarily as something to eat. 26 Fruit is part of a flowering plant and it carries the seeds. The purpose of fruit is to protect a plant's seeds and help them get spread about. Wind and water spread seeds. So do animals when they eat fruit and drop the seeds. 27

There are two main types of fruit: fleshy and dry. Fleshy fruits are soft and juicy. Pears, bananas and apples are all fleshy fruits. 28 Grains like wheat and rice, or nuts like chestnuts (板栗), are dry fruits.

But wait: You've eaten oranges and grapes without seeds. How can they be fruits? It's because people have changed the way they grow fruit. They can now grow seedless fruit. Seedless fruit comes from special plants that are made by combining two varieties of a fruit to form a new variety. These special plants grow and produce seeds. 29 These plants cannot reproduce themselves. They can make fruit, but the fruit has no seeds.

Fruits are a source of substances that keep us alive and healthy. So people make use of fruits for many foods. We make juices from them. We make jams and sweets. 30

 Beer comes from grains and wine comes from grapes, and some particular wines are made from apples, peaches, or other fruits.

- A. Dry fruits are thin and hard.
- B. We even make alcohol from fruit.
- C. But fruit has a purpose quite apart from our needs.
- D. So these plants produce fleshy fruits.
- E. Then the seeds grow into new plants.
- F. But the plants grown from these seeds are seedless.

“Mental activities like reading and writing are great. They 39 bring benefits. We shouldn't 40 their effects on our children, ourselves and our parents,” said Robert Wilson, lead author of the study.

Labor Market Decline

The decline of the labor market is easy to misinterpret. There are many reasons for that. During the 1970s, large numbers of women and young adults 41 (bear) during the baby boom entered into the work force. That 42 (result) in too many workers for the jobs available and depressed wages. The decline also has something to do with the explosive 43 (grow) in world trade since 1960. As 44 (manufacture) technologies have become more mobile, production jobs have 45 (move) from the U. S. to countries where wages are low. In 46 (add), technology itself has helped to cause the shifts in the job market. For example, 47 (few) American workers are needed to make steel today than in the past, because new 48 (machine) have made many of their tasks 49 (necessary). Finally, the high rate of 50 (employment) caused by these factors has tended to drive wages down further.

Using Music to Change Your Mood

Everyone knows that listening to music when feeling bad can provide a relief. Music can also reduce stress, make depression more bearable and help you relax.

All the benefits of music can only be got if the listener enjoys the music he is listening to. If the listener dislikes the music or finds it boring, it will have a negative effect on him instead of a positive one.

Now let's examine what most of us do when it comes to listening to music. We usually just listen to a play list and allow a program to randomly (任意地) select the songs we are going to listen to.

This is where the problem lies. What if you liked the first song but found the second one boring? What if the third one was a motivating song while the fourth didn't suit your emotions? What do you think the result will be?

What you'll have is an emotional mess! The first song will lift your mood a little. The second will make you a little bored. The third will motivate you and then the fourth will put you down. In the end you'll end up feeling worse than before.

I strongly recommend dividing your play list into different small lists. For example, a list for relaxation, a list for motivation and so on. Another very important thing you must do is to get rid of all of the old music that you are bored of. Besides, don't listen to songs with negative words or messages.

The music you listen to can delay your recovery from breakups (分手) by months and months! People who listen to romantic songs after breakups recover 10 times slower than those who don't. So be careful with your play list if you want to recover faster.

Just Introduce Yourself

It's so easy to walk into your first job and feel like a stranger in a strange land. But you don't have to stay that way, and you shouldn't.

You have to remind yourself to kick your shyness away and introduce yourself. Just a handshake will do. Ask the supervisor who hired you to introduce you around a bit. That's the best way to make contacts. Then you'll know what to do and say when you meet these people again.

Don't do what my friend Sue did at her first job at Entertainment Weekly. "That is one of my biggest regrets: I hardly talked to anyone at all when I was there. I was scared and just thought people would talk to me first. For a long time, I was hung up on the thought that if someone was older, I respected them automatically. And even if someone started on Monday, and I started Tuesday, I just felt they had more experience. In the area I worked for four months, I hardly spoke to these people," she said.

"Of course, now I realize that was the most stupid thing. If I could do that again, I'd remember that it's so important not to feel shy about introducing yourself. It's not like you have to be very bold, ready to take over the place. Just introduce yourself and ask if there is anything you can do for them. That breaks the ice."

Sue believes that if she had introduced herself around a bit, there would be just no telling what other opportunities or what other acquaintances she might have now. Not that she regrets where she is now at all. But had she talked to more people at her first job, "maybe it would have helped me get somewhere sooner," she said.

The Woman behind the Brooklyn Bridge

①John Roebling planned to build the Brooklyn Bridge before 1867. But he never really got started. In 1869, he died of an accident. The job fell to his son Washington, a master of construction. In 1872, Washington was injured in building the bridge. He could not walk any longer. He could only see the building of the bridge from his window. But his mind was still fresh. How could he get his ideas down to the workers?

②That's where Emily came in. Emily and Washington married in 1865. At that time John was planning the bridge. He sent his son around the world to study bridges. Emily went along with her husband and learnt much about bridge building. When John died and Washington became the boss, she taught herself more about bridge building. She wanted to help her husband with his new job.

③Emily regularly came to the building site. She gave Washington's instructions to the workers. And then she took questions back to him. However, as time went on, her role started to change. Soon, workers saw her as the new boss. As she had more and more knowledge, she became the chief engineer. She met with officials, discussed with other engineers, and instructed the workers.

④Emily also helped to solve problems outside the building site. Some people once questioned her husband's ability to head the bridge building. And the American society of civil engineers would think about replacing him. Emily went to meet the group. She gave a speech in defense of her husband. The group finally decided to keep him on the job.

⑤It took up 14 years to build the bridge. For 11 of those years, Emily was the one in charge. The bridge finally opened on May 24, 1883. She was one of the first people to cross the bridge. Emily never planned on becoming an engineer, but she turned out to be a great one.

You can 35 only from experience and you get experience only from having a go at something. It may be more 36 to succeed, but you can 37 learn more from failing. ### Running: Sport or Way of Life?

You go through the channels several times and find that once again there's nothing on TV that interests you. Not a problem! Just put on some running shoes and comfortable clothes and go for a run.

One of the best things about the sport of running is that you don't need expensive equipment. All you need is a good pair of running shoes and a safe environment. But don't be fooled into thinking the sport of running is easy. It requires discipline and concentration.

Running is good for you both physically and mentally. It strengthens your heart, lungs, and muscles. It makes you more aware of your body. Running also improves your body so that you don't get sick as easily. It can even help you to stay more focused in school because exercise helps you to think more clearly.

How do you get engaged in the sport if you don't know much about it? Most schools offer running programs. A simple Internet search can help you find some in your area. The programs show you how running can offer competition or just be for fun. They also teach runners to set practical goals and take care of their bodies.

Runners have great respect for each other because they know how difficult the sport can be. If you go to a race, you'll see people cheering for all the runners. Running isn't always about how fast you are running or how far you're going. It's about getting out there and doing it. Participation is more important than competition, and effort is recognized over talent.

If you're looking for more than just a sport, running may be the perfect choice for you.

Kindness of Strangers

At the store where I worked, I noticed a young boy of about ten shopping alone with his school list. He placed everything in his basket and went to the checkout.

The young shop assistant told him the total price $ 37. 60. The boy was instantly disappointed and said he had only been given $ 20. He took out one thing at a time until he got down to his $ 20. With eyes full of tears, he asked if he could phone his mum to pick him up. When he got through, it appeared that even this was inconvenient for his mother.

He bit hard on his lip to stop the tears and walked outside to wait on the bench in front of the shop. This was all too much for the young assistant who had served him and she said, "I wish I could afford to pay for the rest of his things." One of the other girls said she had a few dollars. Then two others said they could help as well.

These four young girls pooled their money and found that they had more than enough money for the boy's extra purchases. So they upgraded his pens and pencils to top-quality ones, then took the bag out to the boy on the seat. His young face changed from sadness to the most beautiful smile. His mother arrived much later to pick him up. Instead of running to the car, he ran back into the store and called out, "Thank you!"

I was so proud of my team that day. They did something wonderful for that boy and also found the pleasure of giving was as great as receiving.

Our Muscles

①When we think of muscles, we might often picture a bodybuilder with big arm and leg muscles. But our muscles do not have to look like that to work well.

②As a matter of fact, every time we write our name, we use the 20 different muscles in our hand. Every time our heart beats, we use our cardiac muscle. When we eat our food, we use our tongue muscles. We even use muscles when we open and close our eyes. In fact, every time we move, we use some of the muscles in our body.

③A muscle is made of tiny fibers. Fiber is a type of tissue that feels a little like a rubber band. Thousands of these fibers are packed together to make a single muscle. We all have the same number of muscles—about 700 or so. Men and women with big muscles simply have thicker bundles of fibers.

④There are three different types of muscles in our body. Smooth muscles are the ones that we cannot control. They work quietly to keep our body running. Also, they are the ones that help us to absorb our food. The cardiac muscle makes the heart pump blood in and out. Skeletal muscles are the ones that we can control. These are the muscles that we use to raise our hands, or ride our bicycles.

⑤Even our face often uses muscles. But if we want to save our energy, try smiling instead of frowning. Remember that it takes 17 muscles in our face to smile, but 43 muscles to frown!

Biological Clock

When the sun rises on a warm and sunny day, you can see some flowers open up. When they close late in the afternoon, other flowers open.

Biological rhythms (生物节律), like the opening and closing of flowers, happen all over nature. But not all of them are daily rhythms. Some, like the beating of our heart, happen every second. 26

Scientists use the term biological clock to describe the timing that controls biological rhythms. 27 In some animals it is probably controlled by the brain. In plants and other living things that have no brain, it must be something else.

The migration of animals happens when a signal is sent out. For example, when days become shorter, birds leave the northern parts of the world and fly south where it is warm. 28

Humans also have biological clocks that control their daily rhythms. When people travel by plane from one continent to another, they often cross many time zones. Their internal clocks don't seem to work correctly. We call this jet lag (时差). 29 People who work night shifts also have problems with their biological clocks. They may not be as active as people who work during the daytime.

Biological clocks control many rhythms of life. 30 Doctors are looking for new ways to make travelling more comfortable and medical treatment more effective.

- A. But where can you find it?
- B. This makes them feel tired.
- C. In the summer they fly back to have babies.

When we want to encourage the 38 of the human spirit, we encourage the human capacity to solve problems, just as in school we deliberately 39 problems for our children to solve. It is through the pain of confronting and resolving that we learn. It is for this reason that 40 people learn not to fear but actually to welcome problems and actually to welcome the pain of problems.

E-books or Paper Books?

Nowadays, more and more people are reading e-books. With it, there raises a heated debate about whether e-books will replace traditional paper books. In my opinion, I prefer paper books than e-books.

First and foremost, too much time of staring at the computer or cellphone screen can cause eyestrain or increase radiation risks. On the contrary, reading a paper book makes us feel more comfortable.

Second, paper books can be preserved for a long time while sometimes we have to delete some e-books to enlarge the space of our electronic products.

Last but not least, it is more convenient to mark on a paper book so that we can recall our former thoughts the next time we read the same book.

In a word, though it seems e-books cope better with the fast pace of our modern life, I still would choose the paper ones since it brings me the real and irreplaceable feeling of reading.

The Pottery Army in Xi'an, a Wonder of the World

In the spring of 1974, Chinese archaeologists (考古学家) made a great find in Xi'an, Shaanxi Province, when they unearthed the pottery statues of imperial guards buried in the Tomb of the First Emperor of the Qin Dynasty dating back over 2,000 years. The pit consists of more than seven thousand pottery warriors, horses and wooden chariots (战车) in life size. The arms they hold are altogether real, some excavated swords being still sharp as anything. The news of these epoch-making archaeological findings spread far and wide. In the past decades it attracted tens of thousands of visitors including foreigners, overseas Chinese and compatriots (同胞) from all over the world to Xi'an, which boasts of having been the capital of several dynasties by the name of Chang'an since ancient times.

The pottery army is well worth a visit for its unparalleled historical relics and rare treasures of exquisite works of art.

All the pottery warriors and horses are so vivid and lifelike that you could almost feel them breathing. Obviously the means of artistic moulding adopted by unknown skilled craftsmen in the Qin Dynasty was ingenious. Their artistic attainments had reached the highest level. People who see them with their own eyes all acclaim the statues as the acme of perfection. Many a foreign visitor admires and praises them as a wonderful achievement. The former French Premier spoke highly of them. "There have been seven wonders of the world, now the Pottery Army in the Qin Tomb is to be added," he said, "Not to see the pyramids is not to see Egypt at all, while not to see the Pottery Army is not to see China at all." His words admirably sum up the impressions of all who have witnessed this wonder of China and of the entire world.

第二部分：阅读选择（第 11~15 题，每题 2 分，共 10 分）

阅读下面短文，请从短文后所给各题的 4 个选项（A、B、C、D）中选出 1 个最佳选项。

Shopping for clothes is not the same experience for a man as it is for a woman. A man goes shopping because he needs something. His purpose is settled and decided in advance. He knows what he wants, and his objective is to find it and buy it; the price is a secondary consideration. All men simply walk into a shop and ask the assistant for what they want. If the shop has it in stock, the salesman promptly produces it, and the business of trying it on proceeds at once. All being well, the deal can be and often is completed in less than five minutes, with hardly any chat and to everyone's satisfaction.

For a man, slight problems may begin when the shop does not have what he wants, or does not have exactly what he wants. In that case the salesman, as the name implies, tries to sell the customer something else—he offers the nearest he can to the article required. No good salesman brings out such a substitute bluntly; he does so with skill and polish. “I know this jacket is not the style you want, sir, but would you like to try it for size? It happens to be the color you mentioned.” Few men have patience with this treatment, and the usual response is: “This is the right color and may be the right size, but I should be wasting my time and yours by trying it on.”

Now how does a woman go about buying clothes? In almost every respect she does so in the opposite way. Her shopping is not often based on need. She has never fully made up her mind what she wants, and she is only “having a look around”. She is always open to persuasion; indeed she sets great store by what the saleswoman tells her, even by what companions tell her. She will try on any number of things. Uppermost in her mind is the thought of finding something that everyone thinks suits her. Contrary to a lot of jokes, most women have an excellent sense of value when they buy clothes. They are always on the look-out for the unexpected bargain. Faced with a roomful of dresses, a woman may easily spend an hour going from one rail to another, to and fro, often retracing her steps, before selecting the dresses she wants to try on. It is a laborious process, but apparently an enjoyable one. So most dress shops provide chairs for the waiting husbands.

  - D. So long as the style is right, he buys the thing.

第三部分：概括段落大意和补全句子（第 16~25 题，每题 1 分，共 10 分）

阅读下面短文，请完成短文后的 2 项测试任务：（1）从第 16~20 题后所给的 6 个选项中为第①~⑤段每段选择 1 个正确的小标题；（2）从第 21~25 题后所给的 6 个选项中选择 5 个正确的选项，分别完成每个句子。

① To succeed in this new environment, you have to learn how to set and follow specific rules. Successful entrepreneurs discipline themselves to take action even when they're weighed down by the tasks at hand. With a few guidelines, you can develop the self-discipline necessary to navigate these new boundaries and accomplish your goals with ease.

② Establish an affirmative mindset by giving yourself a reason to become more disciplined. Just as everyone has different muscular strength, we all possess different levels of self-discipline. State three positive outcomes associated with becoming more disciplined, and give your subconscious direction by integrating your business goals into your daily routine. Having an overall view of your objectives and progress keeps you motivated to take action even when there are distractions.

(3) If you want to become more disciplined, you need to start by strengthening your willpower. Willpower to act can be the intense, powerful boost you need to accomplish your goals, regardless of your emotional state. Often, it's when you force yourself to engage that you reap the most benefits. Don't feel bad about working when you need to. Overcome any initial latency by following your gut, not your guilt.

④ It's often difficult to embark on a large task once you consider the magnitude of the work ahead. Disciplining yourself to take action is like exercising, you have to start where you're comfortable and go from there. Stay motivated and become increasingly productive by accomplishing tasks that immediately benefit your business. Take direct action. The best progress often occurs when you don't feel like working at all.

(5) A hockey game played without borders would result in chaos. Define what you need to do on a personal and professional level to make your first task a success, and stick to it. This may mean working when others are playing or retiring early from a family gathering. When boundaries are crossed, detach yourself from any reactive response. Drive hard but remember not to slam into the hockey glass.

It takes determination and perseverance to make self-discipline an integral part of your regular practice. You'll become stronger, and insurmountable tasks will become routine. Take conscious action, and soon you can spend more time tackling bigger challenges and reaping the rewards of greater successes.

Business Entertainment

Nowadays many business meetings take place outside the office, which makes entertaining clients and customers become an increasingly important part of business. There are so many companies clients can choose to do business with, so it is important to differentiate yourself by building confidence and trust. 26

With more sporting venues to choose from than ever, it can be easily found there is something for every client, whether it's golf, baseball, tennis or auto racing. The time away from the office allows the company to get to know the client more personally without office interruptions. 27 By entertaining corporate clients in an environment outside the office, the company can develop one-to-one relationships and understand their plans for the coming year so that it can better meet their needs.

28 Business meetings are frequently held over lunch, which is usually a light meal beginning at 12:00 noon and sometimes lasting until 2:00 p. m., since work continues directly afterward. Additionally, an alcoholic beverage such as wine or beer, though not too often, is sometimes ordered. Dinner is the main meal of the day, and people might invite their clients to go to their home or go out with them for the evening. Unlike that in Britain, invitations to dine at an American home are relatively infrequent and should be considered quite an honor. With much more intimacy in a home, rather than a restaurant, people love the personal touch added through dinner parties. 29 What's more, clients usually appreciate the personal effort and almost always invite him to their homes in return.

30 Just as Karen Branding, chairman, president and CEO of Busch Creative Services, says, "We host happy hours at fun restaurants that our clients really enjoy. These events allow our clients to meet our whole creative team and see the breadth of talent we offer. In addition, our team gets to know the clients on different levels, so we can understand their needs better."

A. In addition to sporting amusements, business meals also play an important role in business entertainment.

B. Although some people view entertaining clients as a superfluous activity, most businessmen believe that it's essential in international business to build trust and gives a competitive edge.

C. But what are the best ways considered to build and maintain better relationships with their clients?

D. Sporting events offer a very social atmosphere in which to do business.

E. And it is generally believed that inviting clients and their spouses to dinner in one's home is the most effective way of entertaining clients.

F. Entertaining customers becomes more and more important in business.

Packaging as Advertising

Packaging is a very important form of advertising. A package can sometimes motivate people to buy products. For example, a little child might ask for a breakfast food contained in a box with a picture of a TV 31. The child is more 32 in the picture than in breakfast food. Pictures for children to color or cut out, games printed on a package, or a small gift inside a box also 33 many children to buy products or to 34 their parents to buy for them.

Some packages suggest that a buyer will get something for nothing. Food products sold in reusable containers are examples of this. Although a similar product in a (n) 35 container might cost less, people often prefer to buy the product in a reusable glass or dish, because they believe the container is free. 36, the cost of the container is 37 to the cost of the product.

The size of a package also motivates a buyer. Maybe the package has "Economy Size” or “Family Size” printed on it. This suggests that the larger size has the 38 product for the least money. But that is not always true. To find it out, a buyer has to know how the product is sold and the price of the basic unit.

The 39 on the package should provide some answers. But the important thing for any buyer to remember is that a package is often an advertisement. The words and pictures do not tell the whole 40, only the product inside can do that.

Internet Addiction

Internet surfing is very popular nowadays. Many people are fond of Internet surfing so as to get fun from it. For example, many people go to Internet cafes after work so as to get rid of their tiredness, and some college students go to Internet cafes in order to relax their strained nerves so that they have more concentration on their studies. Internet surfing is a means of education, too. It can expand all kinds of knowledge. It can even let us know much about the world.

However, every bean has its black. It is a pity that many people seem to look upon Internet surfing as nothing but a form of amusement. These addicted Internet users spend day and night on Internet surfing. They do not make full use of the good points of Internet surfing and they often lose the chances to learn more knowledge. So they just waste time in Internet cafes. Another bad point we should not ignore is that some people indulge in Internet surfing all day and all night, which does great harm to their health and work.

From what is mentioned above, we know that it is the proper use which we make of the Internet that determines its value to society.

Job or Money?

Would you quit your job if you didn't need the money? In a poll by the Gallop Organization, many people said quitting work was an important reason to be rich. Yet researchers find that work is one of life's chief satisfactions for people.

Consider W. Berry Fowler. In 1979, Fowler started a tutoring company that became so successful he was able to sell out and retire in 1987—a multimillionaire at 40. He bought a 50 foot cabin cruiser and a house in Hawaii, and busied himself vacationing.

But after five years of perpetual vacation, Fowler began to miss the challenges of work. So in 1992, he bought a fitness chain for children and now spends 75 hours a week immersed in balance sheets and staff meetings. "My best days on the golf course weren't half as much fun as a good day at the office," he says.

A job, studies show, is more than a paycheck. Doing something well can increase confidence and self-worth. When sociologist H. Ray Kaplan surveyed 139 lottery millionaires, he discovered 60 percent continued working at least a year after they'd won.

If jobs are so important, wouldn't salary size be a gauge of job satisfaction? Americans think so. A survey conducted last year by Roper Starch Worldwide, found that almost 70 percent of the respondents said they would be happier if their families had twice as much household income. Yet studies show that job satisfaction comes less from how much people earn than from the challenge of their jobs and the control they are able to exert. Work that doesn't engage a person will never seem rewarding, no matter how lucrative it becomes.

第二部分：阅读选择（第 11~15 题，每题 2 分，共 10 分）

阅读下面短文，请从短文后所给各题的 4 个选项（A、B、C、D）中选出 1 个最佳选项。

People's tastes in recreation differ widely. At a recent festival of pop-music in the Isle of Wight, crowds of teenagers flocked to listen to their favorite singers and musicians. They went with single railway tickets and slept in the open, a very risky thing to do in the climate of Britain, even in August. They were packed together like sardines for four days. There were innumerable thieves, a gang of roughs tried several times to break things up, and police were everywhere. At the end of the festival many young fans found themselves broke, with no money left, and they had difficulty in getting back home. Most people would consider these conditions a nightmare of discomfort; the fans appeared to enjoy it all enormously.

Even in the overcrowded United Kingdom there are large tracts of open unspoilt country, where people with more traditional tastes can go for quiet, and for the sense of freedom they derive from contact with nature. In the national parks especially, modern development of housing and industry is strictly controlled. Visitors may walk for miles through landscape of the greatest beauty and wildness, and often of considerable historic or scientific interest. Along the coasts of some of the maritime counties, public pathways have been created; these paths stretch for many miles along cliffs that look out on the Atlantic Ocean or the English Channel. Another path, lying inland, goes along the range of mountains in the north of England. It is called the Pennine Way. Here, the long-distance walker and the nature-lover can find much to enjoy, without feeling disturbed by large numbers of their fellows.

Yet few people make full use of the national parks established for everyone's benefit. The commonest thing nowadays is for family groups to motor out to a beautiful spot and park their cars in a lay-by（路旁临时停车处）. A picnic basket is produced, along with a folding table and chairs, a kettle and a portable stove. They then settle down to a picnic in the lay-by beside the car. Apparently their idea of enjoyment is to get into the fresh air and amongst the country sights and sounds without having to walk a yard. They seem almost to like to hear and to smell the traffic.

11. In Britain it is very risky to _____.

  - C. sleep in the open
  - D. pack together in crowds
12. At the end of the festival, many young fans _____.

第三部分：概括段落大意和补全句子（第 16~25 题，每题 1 分，共 10 分）

阅读下面短文，请完成短文后的 2 项测试任务：（1）从第 16~20 题后所给的 6 个选项中为第①~⑤段每段选择 1 个正确的小标题；（2）从第 21~25 题后所给的 6 个选项中选择 5 个正确的选项，分别完成每个句子。

Poker players who know the game well often talk about “tells” — those unintended expressions, tics or mannerisms that other players exhibit, often without realizing they’re doing so, which offer clues to the quality of their hand. Lynne Curry, founder of Anchorage, offers five ways you can get beyond the standard answers and find out more about the interviewee.

①Curry says interviewees pore over sites that tell them the predictable interview questions, like “tell me about your greatest weakness” or “why did you leave your last position”. Those can yield important information, but you’ll likely get less rehearsed and sanitized answers if you go beyond the obvious. Instead, ask them what their three greatest weaknesses are or ask the individual what led him or her to leave the first job on the resume.

②Interviewees are likely to be nervous, but Curry looks for “matching” — mirroring body language, which tells her “how much they like me, and how comfortable they get and how quickly,” she says. If she leans forward and uses hand gestures, she looks for an interviewee who does the same. An individual who remains stiff and unexpressive may have issues relating to other people.

③Let the interviewee tell you what would make a position a “dream job” at your company. Ask him or her what job functions or other elements would make the job a perfect match for his or her long-term goals. The answer will tell you about the individual’s values and motivators.

“Some people are motivated by intrinsic factors like recognition and job satisfaction. Other people are motivated by money or the prestige of the company. Understanding the motivations of a new employee can help you inspire better performance,” she says.

④ Once Curry is sure she is interested in hiring a prospective employee, she has the individual sign a release allowing previous employers to answer questions during reference checks. Alternatively, if a former employer is skittish about answering questions about a former employee, she asks, “What type of supervisor and work environment would best suit this person?” The answer to that question often tells her more than asking direct questions about past performance, she says.

⑤ Curry says that your receptionist is often your “secret weapon” when it comes to getting a good feel for an interviewee. “Ask your receptionist or assistant how this person acted when they came in. Were they rude or abrupt or friendly? Were they talking on a cell phone? Their mannerisms when they think no one is watching can tell you a lot,” she says.

Market Leaders, Challengers and Followers

In most markets there is a definite market leader: the firm with the largest market share. 26 The market leader is frequently able to lead other firms in the introduction of new products, in price changes, in the level of promotions, and so on.

Market leaders usually want to increase their market share even further, or at least to protect their current market share. 27 Contrary to a common belief, wholly dominating a market, or having a monopoly, is seldom an advantage: competitors expand market and find new uses and users for products, which enriches everyone in the field, but the market leader more than its competitors. 28 For example, many households no longer have only one radio or cassette player, but perhaps one in each room, one in the car, plus a minidisk player or Walkman or two.

In many markets, there is often also a distinct market challenger, with the second largest market share. In the car hire business, the challenger actually advertises this fact: for many years Avis used the slogan “We’re number two. We try harder”. 29

The majority of companies in any industry are merely market followers which present no threat to the leader. Many market followers concentrate on market division: finding a profitable place in the market that is not satisfied by other goods or services, and that offers growth potential or gives the company a differential advantage because of its specific competencies.

30 If its product does not have a “unique selling proposition” there is no reason for anyone to buy it. In fact, in most established industries, there is only room for two or three major companies: think of soft drinks, soap and washing powders, jeans, sports shoes, and so on. Although small companies are generally flexible, and can quickly respond to market conditions, their narrow range of customers causes problematic fluctuations in turnover and profit. Furthermore, they are vulnerable in a recession when, largely for psychological reasons, distributors, retailers and customers all prefer to buy from big, well-known suppliers.

- A. A market can also be expanded by stimulating more usage.
- B. A market follower which does not establish its own place is in a vulnerable position.
- C. Market challengers can either attempt to attack the leader, or to increase their market share by attacking various market followers.
- D. One way to do this is to try to find ways to increase the size of the entire market.
- E. It's not reasonable for market followers to merely imitate the products of larger companies.
- F. This is often the first company to have entered the field, or at least the first to have succeeded in it.

IMF Managing Director Horst Koehler said the agreement is 37 to help Argentina meet goals for growth, employment and social equity. He said it also would help the country's banking system and increase lending needed to support recovery.

Ladies and Gentlemen

Good morning, everyone.

It's my great honor to give a speech here. My topic is "What can you do to reduce the urban traffic congestion?"

As we can see, the number of private automobiles keeps rising. It has brought about a lot of problems especially in cities, one of which is the urban traffic congestion. We can hardly find a smooth flow of traffic in big cities.

Dear friends, you may say that the urban traffic congestion is a problem which can be dealt with only by the government. But do you know that each and every one of us is likely to have contributed to the problem?

Therefore, all of us can do something to stop it.

Dear friends, if you haven't got a car yet, please stay as a non-car owner. If you've already got one, please try not to drive it where public transportation can help you. If you do need to drive, please try to avoid the rush hours or choose a less crowded route.

Dear friends, let's work together to create a city with less traffic congestion and more comfort.

Thank you for your time!

Black Friday

Everyone likes to shop for gifts for the holiday season, but few people know the history of holiday shopping. While people have heard of Black Friday, most do not know its origins. Black Friday is the day after Thanksgiving (感恩节). On this day most retail stores open their doors very early. In addition, they provide their customers with great discounts on products. With this in mind, it is clear to see why so many shoppers buy many of their Christmas gifts on Black Friday.

Black Friday is not as old as many people think. In fact, it is believed that the first Black Friday was held in the 1970s in the USA. It was a day when stores decided to mark the start of the holiday season. In order to draw more customers, they offered great discounts. All products sold very well. This large success resulted in the name Black Friday. It was so named because the stores were in the black. This financial term means the stores made a lot of money. However, it was not until around 2002 that Black Friday really started to gain in popularity. Today in the USA, countless advertisers proudly announce their Black Friday sales. They hope to attract shoppers into their stores.

Black Friday is a day when many shoppers in the USA go out and buy gifts, even though Christmas Eve is still a more popular day to shop. ### Living in Brazil (巴西) and Switzerland

Moving to a different city may seem difficult. You have to change schools and get used to your new home. But you can always go back to that city to visit. When you move to another no country, things are different. However, difficult as it may be, the experience can be rewarding.

My dad, a Brazilian, is really funny and can make friends quickly. My mom, a Swiss, is usually quiet and a bit shy. She likes to be organized, but my dad never makes plans. She enjoys staying home, but my dad always wants to go out. Swiss and Brazilian—what a mix!

After my parents got married, they moved to Switzerland. There they had my brother and me. When I was two, we moved to Brazil. During my childhood we visited Switzerland every year.

Many people ask me where I prefer to live: Brazil or Switzerland. It's really hard to answer because I love both countries. Brazil is a big country, with many states and people. There are multiple dialects and many types of foods. People here have beautiful smiles and are always happy, even if they are poor. In the south the climate is cool, but in the north it's hot and humid.

Switzerland, on the other hand, is small but beautiful and clean. There are four languages in that tiny country. People there are very different from Brazilians: they are wealthy, independent, and organized. The food is delicious, and of course, the famous Swiss chocolate is great, and the climate is dry and cool.

I love both countries. In Switzerland, it's pleasant, calm, and peaceful everywhere. I enjoyed my stay there very much. But now I am happy here in Brazil. I feel excited and at home.

More than One Kind of Intelligence

① You may have heard people mention “IQ” when talking about how smart someone is. IQ stands for “intelligence quotient (智商)”. It can help predict how well someone may do academically.

② IQ is just one measure of our abilities. There are many other kinds of intelligence. For example, spatial (空间的) intelligence is the ability to think in 3D. Musical intelligence is the ability to recognize rhythm and tone. Abilities in sports and arts are other types of intelligence.

③ Another important type of intelligence is emotional intelligence. Emotional intelligence (EQ for short) is the ability to understand, use, and manage our emotions. Just as a high IQ can predict top test scores, a high EQ can predict success in social and emotional situations. EQ helps us build strong relationships, make good decisions, and deal with difficult situations.

④One way to think about EQ is that it is part of being people-smart. Understanding and getting along with people help us become successful in our lives. In fact, some studies show that EQ is more important than IQ when it comes to doing well in school or being successful at work.

⑤Some people are born with good EQ skills; others need to work on them. Everyone can get better if they know what to do. Being able to notice and label everyday feelings is the most basic EQ skills. Being aware of emotions helps us manage our own emotions. It also helps us understand how others feel.

The Princess Disease

Have you ever heard of the princess disease? It is a terrible disease. 26 It wastes away at one's social life and people's tolerance. People with this disease think they are better than everyone else, without a real reason.

Jin is a girl who suffers from this disease. 27 She thinks she is better looking than her friends and most people she has met. It is, as far as she is concerned, a well-known fact that she dresses better, sings better, and dances better than most people in her school, too.

So is Jin justified in believing that she is better than everyone else? 28 Of course, she thinks this is because the singing coach hates her, since the coach has bad skin and is jealous of her. She is good at sports, but she isn't the strongest, fastest, or even the best at any of their school's events. 29 She, again, thinks it was because of the "haters". After losing, she pretended she'd just run for fun and it was no big deal, but in fact it was a huge deal to her.

Jin definitely has the disease. The treatment is to stop being so mean and get a little modesty. 30 She might even get rid of this disease if she tries hard enough.

- A. She is too proud of herself.
- B. Jin is very popular.
- C. Then things might become better for her.
- D. She sings well, but not well enough to be a lead singer.
- E. It threatens to push one's friends away.
- F. She ran for class president, but came in third.

Red Nose Day

Red Nose Day (RND) is a well-known event in the UK. The aim of the day is to raise money for Comic Relief. This is a charity that helps people in need in Africa and in the UK.

Comic Relief was started in 1985 by Richard Curtis. He wrote the famous films Four Weddings and a Funeral and Notting Hill. Richard started Comic Relief in response to the severe famine in Ethiopia. It's called Red Nose Day as on this day many people buy a plastic red nose to wear! The money made from selling red noses goes to the charity.

Red Nose Day takes place every two years in the spring. It is now so well established that many people consider it to be an unofficial national holiday.

The slogan for the last RND was "Do Something Funny for Money". The money that was collected was used to help fund projects in such areas as education and mental health. Money raising events take place on this day all over the country and many schools participate. People also donate money by post, in banks, by phone using a credit card and online.

In the evening of Red Nose Day a telethon takes place on the BBC TV channels. This is like a television marathon (马拉松) that shows some of the events of the day and reports how the money raised will be spent. People also upload videos of local charity events onto the Internet.

But many would be surprised to learn that twenty million Americans ride motorcycles（摩托车）. Few people realize that motorcycling is fast becoming one of America's most popular sports.

According to the Cycle News, many kinds of people enjoy motorcycling. They include businessmen, professionals, and blue-collar workers. Among them, about 55% are businessmen, 3% are in the professions and 9% in government service.

Such information is offered by the Cycle News in the hope of improving the general public's impression of the sport. The public has tended to believe that all motorcyclists are wild and lawless young men.

There are several things about motorcycling that the average citizen dislikes. A motorcyclist's appearance has something to do with this dislike. Motorcyclists often look dirty; in fact, they are dirty. On the road, there is little to protect them from mud. For practical reasons, they often dress in old clothing which looks much less respectable than the clothing of people who ride in cars. For the same reason, motorcyclists usually wear dark colors. Perhaps this helps to explain why they are sometimes suspected of having bad natures.

Probably motorcycles themselves also produce anger and fear. They are noisy, though some trucks are even noisier. But trucks are acceptable because they perform a needed service. Motorcycles, on the other hand, make an uncomfortable noise just to give their riders pleasure. Roaring along quiet streets, they wake sleeping families and make babies cry.

Yet, as motorcycling becomes more and more common, it will be interesting to see how people in general feel about the sport. Perhaps it will someday become as "respectable” as tennis or golf.

How to Forgive, Forget and Let Go

① Forgiving someone does not mean releasing them from an earlier guilt. What if the person who wronged you is not living? What if the person is someone who made you extremely embarrassed during school 20 or 30 years ago? Letting go of emotional pain does not mean that nothing happened; it means that you no longer want to be controlled by it.

② Recognize that forgiveness is not denial. Whatever caused the pain was a real incident. Denying that it happened means it is too painful to work through the emotions. There is no timeline on forgiveness. Some steps take longer to get through, and it is acceptable to set them aside for a period of time. Part of forgiveness is understanding whether or not someone takes responsibility for what happened, and may even show regret.

③ Understand that not everyone who forgives reconciles with the person who caused the pain. There are relationships that are harmful and even physically dangerous. While it is possible to forgive the past and move beyond it, it may also mean that the person who was involved can no longer play an active role in your life. If a person or situation is not safe, it may be best not to reconcile the relationship now. Work on forgiveness at a time when you are emotionally healthy and physically safe.

④ Make a conscious decision to forgive someone. Even if they never apologize for what happened, determine within yourself that it is fine to proceed without this apology. Apologies should not be asking for forgiveness. Apologies should be offered as an effort of true regret.

⑤ They should be admitting that taking personal responsibility for the situation is important. Even without that apology, make up your mind to forgive, forget, and eventually let go.

Natural Resources

Throughout history, people have often selected where they want to live based on the natural resources that are available in the area. 27 Some of these resources include water, food sources such as fruits and vegetables, and animals that can be caught or hunted.

A region's natural resources determine the way of life of its people. 28 On the other hand, poor soil will either send people looking for better places, or attract people with other purposes for the land, such as setting up businesses or factories.

29 People who wish to make a living as fishermen can do so by the ocean, but cannot do so in the desert. Desert people have many traditional and unique foods, which cannot be found in the forest. Each area attracts people based on their interests and purposes.

Areas that have rich water resources will naturally have more people. Traditionally, villages, towns and cities built near water have been the most successful. People there are able to use the water resources to meet their daily needs. 30 Places that are hard to reach, such as high mountains or dry deserts, will have fewer people living in them.

31 For too long, people have destroyed natural resources, using up those resources that cannot be easily replaced. On the earth, we are lucky to have many resources that are renewable, such as sun, wind, water, and trees. As more and more focus is placed on the use of renewable resources, it will become easier to protect our planet from further harm.

- A. It is easy to find new resources in nature.
- B. Renewable resources are those that can be replaced easily.
- C. While you may not think of oceans as natural resources, they are.
- D. For example, regions with rich soil can support farming societies.
- E. They can also use the water to help them move goods to other areas.
- F. Natural resources are useful to people, and they come from the earth.

My Writing Teacher

English writing was always easy for me, but that changed on the first day I walked into Mrs. Johnson's class. Before that, I heard rumors from former students. They said she was strict and her class was hard to pass. So I was very nervous.

The first time we met, Mrs. Johnson told us her class would be difficult, but she would give us new "tools" and guide us through. She explained that her grading system was different, and that we would not see high scores soon. "Everything you do in class matters," she said, "As writing is an art, it takes a long time to perfect."

Mrs. Johnson scared me. I was afraid of what she would say if I asked a question. So in class I kept silent most of the time and couldn't follow her. When I got my first essay back, my grade was terrible. I was annoyed with Mrs. Johnson. I disliked going to her class.

Then I realized I needed to find out what I could do to improve my grade and how to use the “tools” in my writing. As I still didn’t dare to talk to Mrs. Johnson in person, I e-mailed her. In this way, she and I worked together to improve my writing. By and by, I could talk to her both online and in person. She walked me through every step to understand how to write an essay. Together we saw improvement in my work.

From this I discovered that asking for help could actually work. Behind everything Mrs. Johnson was saying, she actually cared about me and where I would be in the future. She knocked me down so that I could climb back stronger.

The Kilt

Whenever people from Scotland live in foreign countries, they are always asked: “Is Scotland that place where men wear skirts?” The short answer is yes, but there is more about the myths of Scottish “skirts.”

The “skirt” that Scotsmen（苏格兰男子）sometimes wear is called a kilt. It is part of the traditional dress of Scotland. The kilt is clearly very famous across the world. It seems that everybody has heard of it, and that most people have seen a picture of a man wearing one.

People’s knowledge and ideas about Scotsmen wearing these funny kilts come from films and television. Every time people from other countries ask about the kilt, they mention Mel Gibson’s film, Braveheart. In many countries, there are television programmes about Scotland. These programmes always include information or images of men in kilts.

Of course, in Scotland, you will often see the kilt. The reality is, though, that you will most commonly see it in tourist areas. The main streets and tourist areas of Scotland always have a Scotsman wearing a kilt and all tourist shops in the country sell kilts in different colours.

But kilts are not something that Scottish people see every day. Kilts are for special occasions, such as weddings, funerals and other big and important events. Scotsmen do not put on their kilt just to buy a bottle of milk and a loaf of bread at the local supermarket.

The reason for this may be that kilts are very expensive. When a man wears a kilt, he normally wears it with a special shirt, jacket, socks and shoes. This is obviously not cheap. In fact, an average kilt outfit（全套服装）costs around £500.

The farmer had ten sons, and Deborah helped to take care of them. In the evening, she had the boys talk about their lessons with her. By this she learned what they learned. She also borrowed their school books to read every night. When she was 18, Deborah became a teacher.

My Major Problem

Decision-making is something I struggle with. In fact, I'd rather have someone else make decisions for me.

As I sat in a crowded information session（咨询会）at a college last summer, I was again faced with the pressure of making a decision. 26 He then asked each of us to give our intended major. I looked at my mother with panic.

“A major?” I said. “I can't even decide what socks to wear to school!”

I wanted to say I was undecided. But as my turn to speak approached, my confidence decreased. 27 I watched the girl in front of me. She was searching for some obscure（鲜为人知的）major. I realized I couldn't just say undecided. So, when my turn came, I uneasily said, “I want to major in business.” I could feel “liar” written all over my face.

28 I felt ashamed. “Why couldn't I have said that?” I thought. The admissions adviser even said that a lot of people are uncertain. That is why students have to decide until the end of the second year.

I have no idea what I want to do with my life. All I know is that I don't want to do anything that involves blood. 29 This isn't really narrowing it down. I've been told many people start college with one major, and graduate with a degree in something totally different.

After my experience at the information session, I've learned not to be afraid of saying I'm “undecided.” I know now that I am not the only one uncertain about future studies. I'm still experiencing a “major” problem. 30

- A. Everyone before me had declared a major.
- B. So I've narrowed my list down to anything but medicine.
- C. The admissions officer asked us to introduce ourselves briefly.
- D. In the end, only one brave person said she was undecided.
- E. Admissions advisors help you to make decisions.

In our daily life, it's nice to have friends. While family is 31 important, friends are a different support system of your choosing. As the 32 goes, "You can't choose your family, but you can choose your friends." Choosing them wisely can 33 your life more exciting and inspiring.

Deciding whom you choose as your friends says as much about you as it does them. You may choose your friends 34 on similar interests. Sometimes it's just circumstances that bring two individuals together who then become friends.

Whatever prompts a friendship, developing one is a very 36 experience. This is especially true when, before you know it, a certain 37 turns into a unique lifelong close friendship. Again, it's been said that a person 38 has only a couple of very close friends in their life. Think of whom you 39 as truly close friends. These are those few individuals you can 40 and share deep thoughts and concerns with.

Exercise Every Day

In our daily life, many people are under big study or work pressure and ignore the importance of doing exercise. From my perspective, doing sports every day is very important. First, it is good for our health. In today's society, the possibility of getting obesity increases dramatically because people always sit for all days. Doing exercise like running and swimming can relax our muscles and improve our healthy condition. Second, it is a good tool to make friends. For example, when we do sports like football or basketball, we can team with other people and work together to achieve goals. I can keep exercising every day because it will not take my time too much. Running or Playing badminton after the dinner may take 20~30 minutes. And I feel very relax after doing exercise.

Life on the Farm

Life on the farm is always changing. New technologies and a rising interest in healthier and organic eating have had a huge impact on how farms do business. At the same time, a growing population has put more demands on farmers. They need to find ways to increase their production levels. The small family farms that used to produce most of the products have been largely replaced by factory farms. Small family farms that are still operating are struggling to keep up.

Technology has made most aspects of farm life easier than it has ever been before. Bigger and more efficient equipment makes work such as plowing up fields and sowing the seeds easier. Such tasks used to take two or three times as long. These advances have allowed farmers to work faster and more efficiently than ever before.

In addition to newer technology, factory farms produce more products for less money than traditional farming would require.

Modern farm life, despite the introduction of new technologies, has not changed much from what it has always been. Farmers still wake up early, and spend their days doing hard work. There are still animals to feed, cows to be milked, and fields to be plowed. Farm life still requires a lot of hard work and sacrifice.

The main change in modern farm life is in the way farms are run. It is common for even small farms to have several hired workers and even an animal manager. Family-run farms are becoming rarer. Factory farms, with other larger farm corporations, are becoming the norm. Although there are still many traditional family farms, they are quickly dying as modern practices change farm life forever.

Christmas Gift

Mary didn't know what to send to her grandparents for Christmas. It was always hard to choose a good Christmas present for them. They didn't need much, and it was hard for her to be creative every year.

One year, she sent them a big wooden elephant. It sat on the counter for a year, but then it disappeared, probably into a closet somewhere. Another year, she made handmade soaps with nice smells, but they probably weren't any better than store-bought soaps. Last year, she sent lots of nice pictures of herself in frames, but grandparents' house was small, and they couldn't hang up very many.

This year, she decided on fruit. She lived where it was warm and there was lots of nice fruit. Her grandparents lived up north, where it was colder and they couldn't get fresh fruit all year, or at least not oranges and grapefruit. Fresh fruit was healthy for her grandparents, too.

Mary went to a fruit store and sampled the red oranges. She really liked them and bought a kilogram. Then she tried three kinds of grapefruit. The white ones were sour. The star grapefruit were interesting, but the dark red grapefruit were great. So she got a kilogram.

Mary carefully packed the fruit in a box to keep them safe and dry in case one got smashed and its juice got everywhere. Then she wrote the address on the box and mailed it from the store. She felt happy with what she bought.

Team Work in Sports

①Teams that win in team sports are often those that work well together. Learning to cooperate with others towards a common goal in sports is what builds character, friendship and important life skills for players.

②Working towards a common goal will keep the team firmly together. Entering into a new season in sports, you might only know a few of the players on your team. Some of the players may be people you do not like. But when your team decides to be the winner of the season, personal differences are often set aside for the common good of the team. By the end of the season, players who have fought through the whole season may become good friends, much like brothers.

③For kids and young adults, team sports offer a way for them to get out and meet with friends. This can help them avoid spending too much time at home watching television and playing video games. Team work teaches people how to help each other and encourage each other. It can also give players a greater respect for one another and can build friendships that last a lifetime.

④Team work in sports offers a way for people to compete for something together. It is important to know that winning is not everything in sports and healthy competition can be good for people. Working towards a goal can teach people the value of hard work, commitment and devotion. Team sports are a great way to learn these values.

Homeschooling VS School

Many kids find it hard to concentrate in school. Classmates, bells, and even cheerful decorations in school can make it hard for some children to concentrate. 26

In some schools, conditions are bad for children's safety and health. 27 Homeschooling parents can control their children's environment to make sure it is safe and healthy.

When students sit in a classroom surrounded by classmates, under the tight control of adults, they find it very hard to function in a normal way. Homeschooling children don't have to stay in the school. 28 They can interact with people in familiar situations, and they feel they can interact with people as adults.

School bullying（以强欺弱）is a serious problem. 29 Although schools are starting to deal with this problem, many kids are still afraid of going to school. Homeschooling kids can choose who they associate with and walk away from an uncomfortable situation.

Schools are cutting field trips. 30 On the contrary, homeschooling can move outdoors, to the beach or the zoo. For homeschooling families, the whole world is a classroom. Learning takes place everywhere and it never ends.

- A. Instead, they are out in the community.
- B. In this case, homeschooling offers fewer interruptions.
- C. Children usually sit at desks or around the kitchen tables.
- D. Some children do not treat their classmates appropriately.
- E. Many students go to class in old or poorly-designed buildings.

The British Summer

Britain is well known for its rainy climate. People joke that even in the summer time the country never gets any sun and that the skies stay disappointingly grey even during the months of July and August.

Last summer though, it was so hot that people could hardly believe it. British people weren't used to such high temperatures, so every day on the news there were stories about people struggling to work in such unusual weather conditions. Radio and television programmes also reminded everyone to drink more water and not to stay too long in the sun.

When the sun comes out, British people tend to spend time in their garden if they have one. It's common to invite friends and neighbours around for a barbecue, where everyone sits outside and eats food like grilled meat (烤肉) and salads. There's always a back-up plan in case of rain though, and the meal sometimes has to be cooked in the kitchen and eaten indoors.

People also spend a lot of time in parks during the summer, having picnics or playing sports. In every green area, there's always at least one ice cream van, a kind of car that plays children's music and sells ice creams.

Towns like Blackpool and Brighton are popular for their beaches and amusement arcades (游乐场). People go there to swim, sunbathe and eat fish and chips. The water can be quite cold, though, and that's why quite a lot of people prefer to go abroad for their summer holiday instead. Popular destinations include Spain, Germany and France, all countries that promise a lot of sunshine!

Horse Talk

Do you know horses talk? You can learn to understand “horse talk” if you pay close attention to them.

When horses live in the wild, other animals try to eat them, so a lot of horse talk is about staying alive. Even now, when most horses live on farms, they watch for danger. For this reason, never walk behind a horse. If you surprise it, the horse might mistake you for a lion or wolf and give a dangerous kick.

By watching the ears, you can get clues to what the horse is hearing. A horse can turn each ear in a different direction. For a wild horse, this skill is important for survival. The horse can hear something creeping up behind it while also checking out a threatening noise in front. When a horse lets its ears down, it's feeling safe and relaxed. Though these actions may be natural responses and not deliberate communications, they help you know what the horse is thinking.

Sometimes horses can send definite messages. For example, they know they are safer when they're with other horses. If they become isolated, they “whinny（嘶鸣）”，calling for company. They're saying: “Where are you? I'm over here!” Domestic horses use the same sounds to stay in touch with other horses.

If a horse snorts（打响鼻儿），it's not communicating anything. It's just clearing dust or grass seed out of its nose. But if it snorts while holding its head high and staring at something, it's saying: “That looks dangerous. Get ready to run!” When two horses meet, they put their noses together and smell each other's breath. It's their way of asking, “Are you a friend?” Horses also “blow”，breathing out the air loudly through the nose, when they meet something strange. They are asking: “Is this safe?”

Horses have a language of their own. Now you know a bit of what they might be saying!

Hawaii, the Aloha State

①Hawaii is sometimes called “the Aloha State”. Aloha is a word in the Hawaiian language meaning love and peace. It is often used as a way to say “hello” or “goodbye”. Hawaii is like the word aloha, because it is a state that has two viewpoints: it remembers its history and looks toward the future.

not in North America. The islands were formed by volcanoes that erupted (爆发) and rose above the ocean. There are still active volcanoes in Hawaii.

③Because of its location, Hawaii has a tropical climate. It is warm, but usually not hot, all year long. Rarely does the temperature drop below 60 degrees Fahrenheit (华氏温度), although it may occasionally snow at the top of some of the mountains.

④Once called the Sandwich Islands by Europeans, Hawaii is thought to have been settled by ancient sailors from other islands in the Pacific. The British explorer Captain Cook was thought to be the first European to find the islands in 1778. Because of its location, Hawaii became a frequent stop for European traders and ships. Hawaii was an independent country before it became part of the United States in 1893. It was governed by either a king or a queen. It is one of the only four U. S. states to have been a country before statehood. It was admitted into the Union in 1959 as the 50th state.

⑤Today Hawaii is important as a vacation destination. Each year over 6 million people visit Hawaii to enjoy the beaches, the beautiful ocean, and the historical Hawaiian culture. Come and visit Hawaii. You are sure to love it!

Warmth at Midnight

Canberra winters are extremely cold, and 2014 brought some of our coldest days. One weekday night I walked to the 31 supermarket before it closed at midnight.

As I approached, I noticed a group of six or seven people 32 by the supermarket entrance. Aware of the 33 of late-night walking, I made sure I paid attention. The scene ahead looked unusual.

And unusual it was. Expecting to see a group of 34 troublemakers, I found a weak, well-dressed old man distributing items of food to a group of homeless people. Rather than just feeding them, he was also engaging them in a 35 of warm discussion.

The homeless people were rough-looking and 36 dressed. But they listened to the man 37, not just with gratitude for the food they had been 38. With no charity vehicle in sight, this old man was only representing himself.

After I finished shopping, the group was still there, food 39, but all laughing. If a weak old man can give to others in the 40 cold at midnight, what excuse do we have?

Keeping Friendship Alive

It's so easy to take good friends for granted. Like a 41 (comfort) pair of gloves, old friends wear well. But friendships that suffer from busyness and 42 (familiar) can't afford to be neglected too long. They need to be 43 (renew). If you want and need to keep true friendship alive and 44 (health), please consider and think over a list of the most important qualities. 45 (Probable) it will help you to understand why you and your best friend haven't 46 (call) up for ages, why you're getting embarrassed while 47 (be) asked "Whom are you 48 (go) to have fun with this weekend?" You may neglect your intimate friends from time to time, but if you fail to cultivate these 49 (virtue) — loyalty, forgiveness, dedication (奉献), and 50 (honest) — you can't expect to keep true friends.

拼写和标点符号是语言准确性的一个方面。评分时，阅卷人应视其对交际的影响程度予以考虑。英式、美式拼写及用法均可接受。如书写较差难以辨认，以致影响交际，或字数明显少于要求，阅卷人应将分数降低一个档次。

My Brother

My brother is off at college, and at age 14, I miss him terribly. My brother is a rare kind of guy. He's smart and kind. And my friends say he's lovely. But it's how he handles things and how he treats his friends and his family that make me feel more proud.

He applied to 14 colleges. He was accepted by all but one, the one he wanted, Brown University. So he took his second choice, and off he went to a first year. When he came home for summer vacation, he said he'd move to Rhode Island near Brown, find a job, and do whatever he could to become known in the area. He'd work his heart out and do his best at everything. Someone, he was sure, would notice. This was a big deal for my parents as it meant agreeing to a year without college. But they trusted him and encouraged him to do whatever he thought it would take to realize his dream.

It wasn't long before he was hired as an amateur (业余的) play director at Brown. Now was his chance to shine, and shine he did. He put every bit of himself into the job. He met teachers and school officials, talked to everyone about his dream and never hesitated to tell them what he was after.

And, sure enough, at the end of the year, when he reapplied to Brown, he was accepted.

We were all happy, but for me the happiness went very deep. I had learned an important lesson—a lesson no one could have taught me with words. If I work hard for what I want, and if I keep trying after I've been turned down, my dreams can also come true. This is a gift I still hold in my heart.

Garlic has a long history of human use of over 7,000 years. It was originally grown in Asia. It finally made its way to Europe and South and North Americas in the 16th century. It rapidly spread to the world because it was easy to grow and could stay alive in poor conditions.

Garlic has also long been used in medicine. Egyptians fed garlic to the slaves to keep up their strength and to defend against diseases. The Romans believed that garlic cured many diseases and helped heal wounds. Greeks gave garlic to athletes during the Olympic Games in order to increase their strength.

More recently, garlic has been mentioned as being used as a treatment for battle wounds in both World Wars. In fact, even today people eat garlic for its supposed benefits. For example, many people eat garlic to help fight colds and coughs. Some even claim that garlic can help prevent high blood pressure and cancer.

A different use for garlic in the past was to keep away bad spirits. In some countries, people believed that if they wore garlic around their necks, bad things would not enter their bodies. And if they hung garlic outside the doors of their homes, bad things would go away.

Easy Ways to Green up Your Life

①Eating meat produces greenhouse gas emissions (排放). If you can't give up meat completely, you can reduce your consumption or give up beef. Don't eat out-of-season farm products. They are grown in greenhouses. A lot of energy goes into heating the greenhouses. And shipping such out-of-season farm products by air from remote places consumes huge amount of energy, too. Just look for local and in-season foods.

②Spend less time behind the wheel, cycle and walk more, and use public transport more. If you have to drive, the first thing is to choose a car that uses comparatively less fuel. Besides, stick to the speed limit, keep your tires properly filled with air, empty your trunk of heavy items, and accelerate and brake gently.

③Want to take a vacation trip by plane? Don't hurry. Think again. Air travel has a big impact on the environment compared with most other forms of travel. You have better choices. Consider having a vacation within driving distance. Of course, taking the train is the best choice.

④Think about how much "stuff" you own. A big part of emissions are linked to our consumption. To reduce it we need a change in consumption culture. Do we really need all the things we buy? And do we always need the newest one? Getting fewer things and making the ones you own last longer will reduce energy use.

⑤Your choices about heating and cooling your home are some of the most important things you can do in terms of cutting your greenhouse gas emissions. Keeping the temperature a little lower in the winter and higher in the summer can make a big difference.

A Lucky Pen

“Mommy, I’ve got something for you!” George ran through the door after school one day. He waved something above his head. “See, it’s a lucky pen!” 26 I looked at the pen in my hand. There was nothing special about it. But I didn’t realize how special it was at that moment.

I had made the decision to pursue a career in writing. 27 I had dreamed about it for a long time but I was afraid to take a chance. I was scared of rejection.

The night before, I had voiced those fears to my husband when I thought George wasn’t listening. But George must have overheard us. Now he stood in front of me, watching me examine the pen. “You don’t have to be scared now,” he said, “This pen will make your stories great and everyone will love you.” Tears filled my eyes. 28 Rejection didn’t seem like such a big deal any more. Even if I never sold the first story, I had everything I could ever need. George in my life!

I found out later how lucky I was when I heard what he did to get the pen. During lunch break at school that day, George heard a boy talking about a lucky pen he had. 29 The boy was a tough negotiator but George didn’t give up. In the end, he traded his lunch, his favorite cartoon book, and his new football, his most prized possession for that pen. Just to make me feel better.
